A BLACK RECORD.

Republican Rule Shown Up—We Want No More of It.

For twenty-three years, man and boy, the Republican party acted as though it was the absolute mentor of the republic. It were long to tell of the violence of its reign, and the unbroken night of its despotism. Its deeds of darkness would fill a volume. Its rogueries were as the sands upon the sea shore; its violations of the constitution as the leaves upon the trees. Every office that existed at the time of its ascendancy, or that was created afterward, was filled with a partisan, and not only a mere partisan in a multitude of cases, but an officious, offensive and aggressive partisan—one of the gadfly kind, pestiferous, insectiverous, and always on the wing. In a political sense, a Democrat was not only a hewer of wood and a drawer of water, but he belonged to an inferior race of human beings, deficient in mentality, and utterly incapable of sharing in the administration of the government because of it, even if he had not been a traitor per se, whose rights the results of the civil war had forfeited, and whose future toleration or citizenship in the land would have to depend much upon his future actions. If these brought forth fruits meet for repentance—for example, if he put on a collar of political serfdom, and had engraved thereon the single word "slave"—his domicile might safely then be vouchsafed, and the graciousness still be extended to him of paying taxes and inhaling a sufficient amount of atmospheric oxygen upon which to exist.

Times changed, but not Republican insolence, self assurance and imperialism. It had been so used to proconsuls. So many of the ways of the satrap were its ways. It had walked so along in paths that had never been beset by hostile force or lurking danger. Its table service had been so long of silver and gold, and its garments so long of purple and fine linen. The fat was so thick upon its political corporosity that it would be a Jeshurun forever, kicking when and where and whom it pleased. The shoulder strap had for so long been its sheet anchor, the military order for so long its ultimatum. Federal spoils for so long had furnished it perfect cohesion; the iron of its war begetting had so long furnished it perfect discipline. So long had been the sound sleep of its undisturbed confidence, and so thoroughly did it believe in the constant iteration and reiteration of its own hypocrisy and cant, that when one fine day the Democratic wolf did come along sure enough, all it could do, when outside there arose a tremendous hue and cry, was to poke its head through a window and blubber impotently: "How dare you!" —Kansas City Times.

Confidence Begets Contests.

The Democratic prospect of carrying New York in the next election is so good that there is naturally a little rivalry for the control of the party's organization. The New York committeeman may mean something in a party that has carried the state five times in succession. With the Republicans the case is very different. They have been beaten in New York until it became a matter of indifference to them to see little Boss Platt "get away" with their state committee and put a mortgage on the senate. It is confidence that begets contests.—New York World.

PAYS THE PENALTY.

A Murderer Hung, Who Smiles as the Cap is Being Drawn Over His Face.

UTICA, N. Y., Feb. 9.—Clement A. Day was executed in the Utica jail at 10:34 this morning. The crime for which Day was hanged was the murder of his paramour, Johanna Rosacross.

Walking over the ice to the jail yard he laughed heartily over the falls of the sheriff, Rev. E. Owen, the newspaper reporter and Special Deputy Burke, exclaiming: "That's four of them." He yawled while his legs were being strapped on the scaffold. He assisted Deputy Ballow in adjusting the rope about his neck and smiled as the cap was being drawn over his face.

YOUTHFUL MARRIAGE.

Hard Luck of a Twelve Year Old Girl Who Has Been Married Twice.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Feb. 9.—The police yesterday arrested Annie Stevenson, aged twelve, on the charge of vagrancy. She was given a light fine by the recorder and last evening was put aboard a train for Hickory Station, Grundy county, Mo., where her father lives. She has twice been married and had two children by her first husband, Robert Patterson, whose wife she became when she was ten years old. Patterson was seventeen. She was married thus young because her father had deserted her and Patterson offered to protect her. Her husband and two babies died and she went again to her father, who then lived near Mound City, Mo.

There she became acquainted with John Stevenson, twenty-three years old, to whom she was married about three months ago. Stevenson left her a couple of weeks ago, and she came to St. Joseph to look for him. Her destination induced the police to take charge of her. She is rather small for her age, and looks younger than twelve years. She is quite pretty and intelligent, and says she still loves her husband. He left her she thinks, because he was poor and wanted to get a start in the world.

HE REMAINS DEAD.

A Chinaman's Dead Body Held in Expectation of Resurrection.

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—The body of Hop Lung Sing, a Chinese laundryman, is in a coffin at Tinkham's undertaking shop awaiting resurrection. The time for him to get up out of his coffin and walk, according to two of his countrymen, expired yesterday, but he has not arisen. To-day, probably, he will be buried. Hop Lung Sing died a week ago from natural causes at his laundry in Chelsea. He was taken to Tinkham's and laid out on ice.

Five days ago, at 2 o'clock in the morning, two Chinamen drove to Tinkham's house and woke him up. They were very anxious to visit the dead man and perform a mystic ceremony over the remains, being perfectly satisfied that after they had done so he would come to life in five days' time. Tinkham laughed at the idea, but the Chinamen were very much in earnest, and promised to pay him for his trouble if he would go. Finally Mr. Tinkham and his son-in-law dressed and went to the shop and let them in.

From beneath their capacious blouses they drew forth three live hens, which they killed by cutting off their heads and legs. With the blood which flowed from their necks, the Chinamen smeared the head and breast of the dead man, all the time murmuring some incantation in their own language and burning incense. They did other strange things with the body, and left, assuring Mr. Tinkham that Hop Lung Sing would come to life in five days from that time.

TOO LITTLE TO COUNT.

Birth of the Smallest Speck of Humanity on Record.

WELLS, Minn., Feb. 9—The "smallest baby in the world," at Lynn, Mass., has more than met his match in Faribault county. Saturday there was born to Mrs. Fred Miller, at Rice Lake, seven miles south of Wells, a speck of humanity that barely tipped the beam at one and one-half pounds. Its feet are not over an inch in length, and a gentleman's ordinary finger-ring will go over the foot and upon the ankle. A small child's teacup will cover its head. The father is a large, heavy man and the mother a very little under the ordinary size. The child at two days old was lively as a cricket and is a perfectly formed, healthy child.

An Ohio Manufactory Fails.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Feb. 9.—The Springfield Manufacturing company was placed in the hands of a receiver late yesterday afternoon. The company does a general manufacturing business. The liabilities are $120,000; assets, rated full value, $90,000. The company was pushed to the wall by banks in Cincinnati, Springfield, Troy, and other cities who held its paper, and threatened attachment proceedings.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, February 9.—Indiana: Light snow, preceded by fair weather in northern portion, slowly rising temperature.

ENGLAND'S QUEEN.

Her Speech is Read to Parliament---The Condition of the Crown Prince ---Foreign News.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Parliament assembled to-day and the queen's speech was read. She announced the completion of demarcation of the Afghanistan boundary and hopes the work thus concluded may tend to remove the possibility of a misunderstanding between the two powers regarding the Asian possessions. She deeply regrets her efforts were not successful in dissuading the king of Abyssinia from war with Italy, and announces the continuance of the conference at Washington to adjust the questions between Canada and America. She says the estimates for services for 1888 have been framed, with due regard for economy, and the commons will be asked to provide for the improvement of the defense of the ports.

Speaking of the measures passed at the last session for the benefit of Ireland she says they have been carefully arried into effect with satisfactory results. Measures tending to develop the resources of Ireland and to facilitate and increase the number of the proprietors of the soil will be presented, also the subject of local government in England. Measures will be submitted for dealing with it in combination with the proposals for adjusting the relations between local and imperial finance and for mitigating the burdens imposed upon the rate payers. The other subjects for considerrtion are legislative proposals for cheapening the transfer of land, for modifying the procedure by which tithe rent charge is collected, for promoting technical education, for preventing undue preferences in rates charged by railway companies on foreign and domestic produce, for remedying abuses in the formation of companies under the limited liability act, for amending the law of liability of employers in case of accident.

SAN REMO, Feb. 9.—The breathing of the crown prince is much worse today, and a telegram was sent to Prof. Bergman to hasten his arrival.

It has been decided by the physicians in attendance upon the crown prince that the operation of tracheotomy must be performed to-day.

Noon—The doctors are doubtful whether it will be safe to await Dr. Bergmann's arrival. The crown prince breathes with the greatest difficulty.

AN OPERATION PERFORMED.

4:50 p. m.—Dr. Bergmann has successfully performed an operation of tracheotomy on the crown prince. The patient is progressing well.

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—The reichstag to-day passed the military loan bill without debate.

LOVE TRAGEDY.

Murders the Girl Who Rejected Him and Then Takes His Own Life.

PLATTSBURG, Mo., Feb. 9.—One of the most shocking tragedies ever enacted in this county occurred Tuesday at the residence of David Everett, a farmer, living two miles northeast of this city, where his daughter, Neva Everett, was shot and instantly killed while sitting by the side of her mother, by William Ball, a young man whose offer of marriage she had rejected. A moment later Ball placed the revolver to his head and fired falling dead on the floor.

Mr. Everett said that young Ball had worked for him at different times and he came to his house late last night to stay all night. This morning he proposed to to help Everett kill hogs. While at work he made frequent trips to the house. Finally Miss Everett called her father and asked him to send Ball away, as she was afraid of him. Everett notified Ball that he would not need him longer, and that he could go. This was about 9 o'clock. Ball started as if to leave, going across toward the road, but when he had passed Everett's stable he turned and went into the kitchen. Mrs. Everett and two little children and Miss Everett were in the room.

He asked Mrs. Everett if she had any objections to his talking to Miss Neva for a minute. She told him no, not if Neva wished him to. He then asked the young lady to step into the other room with him for two minutes, as he wished to talk to her.

She told him if he had anything to say to her she preferred he would say it in the presence of her mother. He instantly fired at her, striking her in the back of the head at the base of the skull, the ball passing clear through her head. Miss Neva fell into her mother's arms, who was sitting within two feet of her, and expired without a word or struggle.

After firing the shot Ball walked into the next room, placed the muzzle of the revolver to his temple and pulled the trigger, falling dead within twenty feet of the dead girl. Ball was but twenty-one years old, and had been here about two years. Miss Everett was in her sixteenth year, and was quite a belle in the neighborhood. She was quite handsome and noted for her amiable disposition.

His Findlay Speculations.

FINDLAY, O., Feb. 9.—John R. DeCamp, late vice president of the Metropolitan National bank, of Cincinnati, did not speculate very largely in Findlay real estate, as alleged. His entire investments here did not aggregate $5,000, and the property could not be sold to-day for twice that sum, according to the testimony of those in a position to know.

BENJ. EGGLESTON!

The Prominent Ohio Ex-Congressman Dies This Morning at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 9.—Hon. Benj. Eggleston died this morning at the Walnut Street house, where he was taken for treatment. For three years he has been incapacitated for business by an affection of the brain, during which time he has been at the home of his brother in Hocking county. The sudden change in his trouble required special treatment, and for this purpose he was brought here a short time ago.

Mr. Eggleston was in many public positions during his life time. He served thirty years in the city council, served two terms in congress, three terms in the Ohio senate, and was always prominent in political work. He was 72 years of age.

THE CONDUCTORS.

The Congressional Committee Report Adversely to Their License.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The house committee on labor to-day decided to report adversely to the bill to license railway conductors.

Failures.

CHICAGO, February 9.—The failure of Bensley Bros., a board of trade firm of thirty years standing, was announced this morning. Liabilities unknown.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, February 9.—Frank V. Sowles, a lumber dealer of Avondale, has assigned to Charles J. Hunt. Liabilities, $35,000; assets, $40,000. The failure is attributed to the suspension of the Metropolitan bank. Sowles is a brother-in-law of John R. Decamp, the late vice president of that bank. Preferences were made in favor ow David W. Sowles for $7,000, the Sission & Lilly Lumber Co., $2,500; Adele T. Decamp, $1,000, and others aggregating $1,200.

Presidential Straws.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—In reply to inquiries as to the choice or preference of Illinois editors for president and governor, the Chicago Evening Journal has so far received sixty-nine replies, with the following results:

For president—Republicans: Robert T. Lincoln, 13; James G. Blaine, 10; Shelby M. Cullom, 6; Walter Q. Gresham, 4; Joseph R. Hawley, 3; John Sherman, 2; Philip H. Sheridan. 2; George W. Childs, 1.

Democrats: Grover Cleveland, 22; John C. Black, 1.

Greenback: Jesse Harper, 1.

Prohibitionist: John P. St. John, 1; no choice, 3.

Maxwell's Case.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 9.—Advices from Washington, D. C., say that Mr. Brooks, of England, the father of Hugh M. Brooks, alias Maxwell, the chloroformer, accompanied by John I. Martin, his son's chief counsel, are in the city, and that an application will be made to the supreme court for a hearing of the Maxwell case. This, it is said, will prevent the issuance of the court's mandate for this term and give counsel time to consider what other means, if any, can be used to save the young man from the gallows.

A Horrible Accident.

DELAWARE, O., Feb. 9.—John Williams, of Thompson township, this county, while splitting wood Tuesday, his twelve-year-old son was piling it up, the boy stooped down suddenly to pick up a piece of wood, just as the axe was descending with a terrific force. To the father's horror the blade struck the boy in the back of the head and cut the skull almost in twain The boy died in a few minutes. Williams is almost crazed with grief.

Election of an Archabbot.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 9.—The election at St. Vincent's Abbey of a successor to the late Archabbot Wimmer, of the Benedictine order, took place yesterday, and resulted in the choice of Rev. Innocent Wolf, the present abbot of Atchinson, Kas. About 150 members of the order from different portions of the country were present. The district embraces a large area, including Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Maryland.

Tar and Feather Case Settled.

MANSFIELD, Feb. 9.—The jury in the the $20,000 damage case of Simon Dolph against some sixteen well-known residents of the northern part of the county, charged with tarring and feathering the plaintiff in August, 1886, returned a verdict of $75 for the plaintiff and $200 fees for his attorneys.

Walking Match.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—In the walking match, at 10 o'clock, Albert was four miles and three laps ahead of the best record for eighty-two hours.

The First Presbyterian church social occurs to-night at the church parlors. The valentine sale will be a feature of the evening.

Circuit Court.

Before Judge Edward O'Rourke:

The jury in the Conway-Vizzard case are out.

The case of Jacob Browg vs. Dr. L. B. Casebeer, from Auburn, is dismissed.

The suit of James Chapman vs. Sol. Chapman was sent to Whitley county for trial.

THE CAPITAL CITY.

The Proceedings of the House and Senate—Riddleberger and the British Lion's Tail.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The ways and means committee decided to report favorably the Mills bill to authorize the secretary of treasury to apply the surplus money now in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, or so much thereof as he may consider proper, to the purchase or redemption of the United States bonds.

SENATE.

Mr. Riddleberger's resolution for amending the rules so as to allow the British extradition treaty to be considered in open session, was reached in regular order. Mr. Riddleberger explained that the British lion's tail having been twisted by a vote of 23 to 21, the passage of the resolution was no longer necessary.

Senator Hawley and others called the Virginian to order and he sat down remarking that he supposed he had a right to say so much. Mr. Riddleberger's allusion was to vote in secret session last night, by which the consideration of the treaty was postponed to next December.

The president sent the name of B. F. Wade to the senate as United States marshal for the northern district of Ohio.

LOCAL NEWS.

Edward Bridier and Dora Parker have been licensed to wed.

Sheriff Viberg will take John Raeffle to the state insane asylum to-morrow.

Col. Sam B. Sweet is in the city to attend the Scottish rite convocation to-night.

Tim O'Connor, the book agent, will practice law after he gets through with Officer Sheridan's suit.

A. S. Lauferty & Co. threw their handsome clothing store open to the public to-day. Their public inspection is to-night.

The ladies' sewing society of the Second Presbyterian church will meet at the parsonage, on West Berry street, to-morrow afternoon.

Judge Chapin over-ruled the motion for a new trial in the suit of Wilkinson vs. Barbour and gave the plaintiff judgment for $70. An appeal was taken.

The valentine sale will be an exceedingly novel feature of the First Presbyterian church social to-night. Next Tuesday is Valentine's day and this will add interest to the social to-night.

George LaDuke, of Fort Wayne, who sent an obscene letter through the mail, was before Judge Woods, at Indianapolis, yesterday morning, was fined $100 and costs. He went to jail.

The Wabash board of trade has taken hold of the Wabash and Erie canal, and will recommend to the city council that the land which the ditch occupies be condemned and the property sold to the city.

The council of administration, G. A. R., department encampment, will meet at Indianapolis the evening of the 20th, and a hearing will be given representatives of Auten and Logansport posts, whose charters should have been annulled, in case the same should be requested.

Joe Murphy and his company gave their new play to a magnificent audience at the Temple last night. The "Donagh" is a pretty Irish drama and permits Murphy to introduce his songs and others of his company their jigs. The star is growing old, but he is as popular as ever. The company went to Indianapolis this afternoon.

The Lafayette Courier says: "Captain Reese, of the Twentieth Indiana, a resident of Fort Wayne, is visiting friends in the city, a guest of Col. W. C. L. Taylor and others. He exhibited a two-ounce bullet which he carried in his head for twenty-four years. The ball recently worked its way into the throat and dropped into his mouth during the night."

Colonel Jones' Speech.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 9.—Col. C. H. Jones, the editor of the Jacksonville (Fla.) Times-Union, delivered an able paper before the American National Publishing association this morning on the subject, "The Government Control of the Telagraph."

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

The Budget of News Coming From the Railroads and Factories To-day is Very Dull.

Pay days are in order again.

The depots were very quiet and cold this morning.

The cold weather made most of the trains late this morning.

The ticket agents report railroad travel as very light to-day.

The Pittsburg boiler works are building a new boiler for the car shops.

The car building business is now greater than it has been for years.

The east bound passenger on the Wabash was an hour late this morning.

The two locomotive works at Pittsburg last year turned out 217 first-class locomotives.

Most of the departments of the Pittsburg shops are now running until 9 o'clock at night.

F. Carmedy, a Grand Rapids engineer, has resigned to take charge of a locomotive on the Nickel Plate.

T. E. Short and John Palmer, Nickel Plate firemen, have been promoted to engineers of switch engines.

Charley Taylor, the Bass machinist, says his thermometer indicated 6 degrees below zero last evening.

William Keeley, a Pittsburg boiler maker, was taken suddenly ill yesterday and is now confined to his home.

Christ Daseler, the clerk in the Pittsburg car shops, says the cold weather froze his thermometer out last night.

Philip Sweeney and John Nesel, of the Pittsburg car shops, have returned to work after a short siege of sickness.

Glover Harrison, who has been railroading in the west for a time, is in the city and will take a position on one of our roads.

The moulding rooms of J. J. Stier and Frank Finke, of the Bass works, are closed down to-day on account of the funeral of Henry Clay.

Thomas Shepperd, of the Pittsburg boiler shops, who had just recovered from sickness, has had a relapse and was compelled to quit work again yesterday.

The railroad shops of the Clover Leaf at Delphos, which were shut down last week, and the employes discharged, resumed work Monday with a limited number of men.

The bill before the Ohio legislature, to compel railroad companies to pay semi-monthly, does not seem to meet with general approval among the employes.

Wm. Carpenter, a brakeman on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, whose home is at Andrews, Ind., was killed at Tiffin, Ohio, on Monday by being crushed between the cars. His remains were sent to Andrews.

Young Allhand, who was fireman on the train wrecked at Urbana, a few days ago, was stepson of John Pontius, exforeman of engines on the Pennsylvania lines. The father of Allhand was killed on the same switch engine four years ago.

The electric light has been used on all trains on which the czar and his family travel for some time past. A special commission has recently been appointed by the Russian minister of ways of communication to select the best system of electric lighting for railway carriages.

Col. J. H. Shinn, of Willshire, Ohio, a prominent railroad contractor, has secured the interest of prominent capitalists and citizens in an effort to construct immediately a new railroad from Toledo, Ohio, to Indianapolis, Ind., via. Delphos and Decatur, Ind., making a direct line between the two cities.

The superintendents of the lines in the Pennsylvania system west of Pittsburg are putting in their third week in Pittsburg in conference with the higher officials. It is intimated that a number of important changes are to be made in the methods of operating, more especially regarding the train service.

An employe of the Nickel Plate writes us as follows: "I noticed in your issue of Tuesday that you stated in your column headed 'Echoes of the Rail,' that the longest piece of straight railroad track in the country was sixty-five miles. I think you are mistaken in this respect, as the Nickel Plate can boast of eighty-six miles of straight track between the New Haven gravel pit and Arcadia, O."

The moulders of the Bass foundry and machine works have a sick and disabled benefit association which is a splendid organization for men engaged in their employ. It was organized in February, 1884, and now has on its rolls many of the employes of the works. The constitution and by-laws are similar to other organisations of its kind, but it has no outside expenses whatever. When a member is sick or disabled each of the other members pay to him the sum of twenty-five cents each for every week of his disability, and, with the present membership of the club, this amounts to a weekly payment of $8 or $10. In case of death the payment is $2 for each member, which is given to the wife of the deceased. The club is one of the cheapest of its kind and has paid out $1,000 in the way of benefits since its organization. The deceased Bass moulder, Henry Clay, was a member of this association.

EX-LT.-GOV. WILL CUMBACK, of this state, was at Washington last week, attending a reunion of the members of congress who in 1856 voted for Nathaniel P. Banke, of Massachusetts, for speaker of the house of representatives.

MR. ROSWELL P. FLOWER has written a Chicago friend to the effect that Governor Hill is in the presidential race and will dispute the New York delegation with President Cleveland. Mr. Hill will regret the attempt when he encounters the popular cyclone.

JUSTICE HARLAN will give Messrs. Coy and Bernhamer an opportunity to review the partisan and dangerous rulings of Judge Woods. It is not so much the conviction of the alleged tally sheet forgers, we deprecate, but the despisable manner in which it was accomplished under the guise of justice. There ought to be some show of fairness even in political trials.

THE report of the state board of health for the year commends the northern prison and state insane hospital as models of cleanliness and sanitary condition, but condemns in severe language the sewerage system of Michigan City and the southern prison. In the latter the board was unable to find a sanitary modern appliance. The condition of twenty-seven jails and seventeen county poor houses are also denounced as bad in every respect. The general health of all live stock is remarkably good, and school houses generally are reported to be in satisfactory condition and gradually growing more so.

THOUGH the appearance of artificial precious stones is now so exactly imitative of the genuine article as to render the judgment even of an expert frequently at fault, it is claimed that the test of hardness is still infallible. Thus the beautiful French paste, from which such attractive imitation diamonds are made, is a kind of glass, with a mixture of oxide of lead—the more of the latter the brighter the stone, but also the softer, and this latter is the serious defect. But by careful selection of the ingredients, and skill and manipulation, the luster, color, fire, and water of the choicest stones are, to the eyes of the ordinary purchaser, fully reproduced; there are a few delicacies of color that can not be perfectly given, depending as they do on some undiscoverable peculiarities of molecular arrangement, and not on chemical composition—these, however, not being apparent to the uninitiated. M. Sidot, however, a well-known French chemist, is reported to have nearly reproduced the peculiarities in question—including the dichroism of the sapphire—by means of a composition, of which the base is phosphate of lime; and other chemists have produced rubies and sapphires having the same composition as the genuine stones, and almost as hard.

THE twin cities of the Northwest, St. Paul and Minneapolis, understand each other, and never in the history of cities, ancient or modern, has rivalry been conducted, as in these great metropolises, upon the mutual benefit plan. If St. Paul claims 250,000 population, Minneapolis at least goes 10,000 better. This does not intimidate St. Paul. At the earliest opportunity she revises her figures and claims 300,000. If St. Paul boasts of climbing the beautiful hills which environ her, and which afford the citizen and tourist views of almost unparalleled beauty, Minneapolis comes to the front and tells how she is spreading out over all the adjacent country. If St. Paul boasts of being the Capital City, Minneapolis points to her mills and puts in a claim for being the Flour City of the world. And thus it goes on from year to year, and what is peculiar about the business is that when strangers visit these cities, what appeared in print as the creations of overwrought fancy, is found to be solid facts. The Munchausen statements are never more than six months ahead of the facts.

HIS Imperial Majesty Alexander III., Czar of all the Russias, recently presented the Czarina with a birthday present in the shape of a jeweled necklace. The gems used are all large emeralds, perfectly matched as to color and size. The matching of the stones alone occupied a period of three years. The imperial jewel is said to be highly prized by Alexander's consort.

A ROMANTIC wedding took place at Knoxville, Tenn., recently. Several young people were calling on Miss Annie Oates, a popular society belle, and was teasing her about a rumor that she was to be married. See told them that it was true and they could see for themselves in a few minutes. While they were talking W. H. Hague, a dry-goods salesmen, drove up in a carriage with a minister, and in less than five minutes they were married. Members of her own family were as much surprised as any one.

AN event occurred in San Quintin, Lower California, recently, which was made an occasion of great importance. A baby was born. It was the first baby born in the new settlement. The residents assembled in mass meeting, and the result of their deliberations was a set of resolutions to the effect that the child should be called Quintin Beaughardt and that the local land company should bestow upon it any lot in the town that its parents should select. It was also decided to further encourage increasing the population by awarding two lots for twins and a whole block for triplets.

THE same precautions against fire are taken in Moscow and St. Petersburg to-day that were in use a century ago. Scores of fire-towers are everywhere seen. They run up about seventy-five to one hundred feet, are built like a light-house, with winding stairway, and have a platform all around at the top, where the watchman patrols day and night. If a fire is discovered a signal is given and the fire department turns out. It was only recently that St. Petersburg, the capital, with hundreds of millions of government property, secured a steam fire-engine, and that is a poor, old fashioned affair. The hand-engine does service there yet, and in most other cities of the empire.

"WE greatly dislike to find fault with any of the customs of our beautiful little city," says a Dakota editor, "but we must nevertheless insist that the people keep their swine out from under the office of this paper. While engaged at our desk writing our leader on 'The Stability of Our Territorial Institutions,' for our paper this week, one of Senator McBride's razor-backed hogs humped up its spine and began scratching its back on the beams under the floor, jarring the building and making it necessary for us to stop our work on the editorial, crawl under our office, and welt the critter along the side with a column rule. This interrupted our train of thought, and the editorial is not what we could wish."

A CHINESE missionary says he thinks that it will be many years before railroads can be built in China, because of the superstition of the people. China, he says, is one vast graveyard. On every side there are to be found the mounds of those who have died. The Chinese will not allow these mounds to be disturbed under any circumstances. Their superstition forbids the removal of a body or the interference with the grave of any person once buried with the proper ceremonies. Twice a year they visit the graves of their ancestors, in the spring with offerings of the first fruits of the season, and in the fall they repair to the graves and burn incense. If a railroad should attempt to enter the country some of these mounds would have to be removed or else the rails would have to wind in and out among them.

The blood is the source of health. Keep it pure by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is peculiar in its curative power.

COMMODORE FOOTE.

The Celebrated Fort Wayne Lilliputian Writes From Mexico to The Sentinel.

CHIHUHUA, OLD MEXICO, Feb. 1, 1888.

Editor DAILY SENTINEL:

If "writing for the papers" was my forte I would like to jot down a brief history of my wanderings and the strange sights I have seen since leaving Fort Wayne, some three months ago. But, being one of the uninitiated in the "art preservative of arts," I am afraid of "putting my feet in it" should I attempt to do so. I cannot, however, resist the temptation to "write up" a few of my impressions of this curious old country, even at the risk of having my efforts find a burial in the wast basket. El Paso, Texas, a thriving city of perhaps 10,000 inhabitants, situated in the extreme southwestern part of the state, is the great iron gateway between the two republics, through which passes a vast amount of traffic. The Rio Grande river at this point forms the boundary line, as one may say, between the nineteenth and sixteenth centuries; between progress and mere brute existence. A bridge spans the river here, and passing over it, you find yourself on Mexican soil and in the old city of Paso del Norte. Here, to unaccustomed eyes, many strange sights present themselves. Houses, fences, everything, is made of adobe (adobe is made from the dirt mixed with water). The winding, narrow streets are filled with Greasers, burro's dogs and other gennus homo, all standing idle, or moving at a snail-like pace, with no apparent object or ambition. Continuing through the tortuous streets your attention is attracted by a quaint old structure of more pretentous size than any in its neighborhood. It is the church of My Lady Grondelupe, and is said to be over 250 years old, and is the mecca to which the devote Catholic population wends its way daily.

The Mexican Central railroad has its northern terminus here. The road was built by American money and is operated by Americans. The road compares favorable with the roads in 'Go I's country' and is very well patronized. Its southern terminus, I believe, is the City of Mexico. Embarking on one of its trains at Paso del Norte, after a ride of 220 miles, we arrived at Chihuhua, the capital city of the state of that name. The city has a population of perhaps 40,000, and is built on a level plateau that extends to a considerable distance on all sides, while its name reaches far beyond the scope of vision. Here we see Mexican life in all the fullness of its glory. The lower classes are about as low as it is possible for them to get, and are little better than slaves. The streets are full of mendicants, who single out the foreigner as their especial prey. They inform you on every corner that Americans are good givers and are almost always rewarded with a "cinquor" for this little piece of flattery. The higher classes are noted for their genial politeness, high breeding and the cunning ability they possess in cheating. Here, as at Passo del Norte, everything is made of adobe; the Mexican sun furnishes the fuel for burning brick, and after watching the process of making these adobe brick, the task allotted the children of Israel, to make brick without straw, don't seem to have been such a hard task after all. The little burro is made the beast of burden here, and it is simply wonderful the amount in weight they will carry. Here we see a groupe of a dozen or more loaded with hay, and still another loaded with country produce, all moving along the streets picking up whatever they can masticate, seemingly as unconcerned as if they were in a rich pasture instead of laboring under a 100 pound weight. I know that some of our Indiana dairymen would "smile a smole" could they see the Mexican milk peddler and his outfit. Here, as in almost everything else, the burro does the work; two old Egyptian jugs are fitted into baskets, and thrown over the back of the burro, something after the fashion of the ante-Bellum saddle bags, and into these jugs the milk is put and carried. Another strange sight is to see wooden-wheeled carts and oxen yoked by the horns, exactly as they did six thousands years ago. In fact everything moves slowly here, and it makes the average Yankee nervous to attempt to do any business with a native. The only good thing I find in this country is the climate, which is all that could be wished for. I am now writing by an open window in the shade, while the air is as balmy as a June day in Indiana. Strawberries and other garden "truck" is in the market; so, you see, while you of the frigid north are going around with blue noses, I am enjoying the genial warmth of summer.

The Chihuhua cathedral, said to be over 200 years old, is a grand old building. There are eight small bells and one large bell hanging in the high tower. The large bell has a portion broken out—done by a cannon ball during the Maximillian war. The prisons are horrible. The hotels are none of the best. The flooring is brick and many rooms have no windows—only iron bars in the doors, (a la prison style.) I went to see a Mexican bull fight here. There were over 5,000 spectators. I think it most brutal the way they torture the beasts. I will close this hastily written letter, only remarking that business with our party has been good this season.

Yours respectfully,
CHARLES W. NESTEL,
Known as "Commodore Foote."

THE English system of naval punishments is to be revised, and minor offenses, instead of being treated to the cat and sweat box, will now be punished by fines and stoppage of leave.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Why You Feel

So weak and exhausted is because your blood is impure. As well expect the sanitary condition of a city to be perfect with defiled water and defective sewerage, as to expect such a complicated piece of mechanism as the human frame to be in good order with impure blood circulating even to its minutest veins. Do you know that every drop of your two or three gallons of blood passes through the heart and lungs in about two and a half minutes, and that, on its way, it makes bone and muscle, brain and nerve, and all other solids and fluids of the body? The blood is the great nourisher, or, as the Bible terms it,

"The Life of the Body."

Is it any wonder, then, that if the blood be not pure and perfect in its constituents, you suffer so many indescribable symptoms?

Ayer's Sarsaparilla stands "head and shoulders" above every other Alterative and Blood Medicine. As proof, read these reliable testimonies:

G. C. Brock, of Lowell, Mass., says: "For the past 25 years I have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In my opinion, the best remedial agencies for the cure of all the diseases arising from impurities of the blood are contained in this medicine."

Eugene I. Hill, M. D., 381 Sixth Ave., New York, says: "As a blood-purifier and general builder-up of the system, I have never found anything to equal Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It gives perfect satisfaction."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla proves equally efficacious in all forms of Scrofula, Boils, Carbuncles, Eczema, Humors, Lumbago, Catarrh, &c.; and is, therefore, the very best

Spring and Family Medicine

in use. "It beats all," says Mr. Cutler, of Cutler Brothers & Co., Boston, "how

SKIN SCALP BLOOD.

Having been a sufferer for two years and half from a disease caused by a bruise on the leg, and having been cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other methods and remedies failed, I deem it my duty to recommend them. I visited Hot Springs to no avail, and tried several doctors without success, and at last our principal druggist, Mr. John P. Finlay, (to whom I shall ever feel grateful), spoke to me about Cuticura, and I consented to give them a trial with the result that I am perfectly cured. There is now no sore about me. I think I can show the largest surface where my sufferings sprang from of any one in the State. The Cuticura Remedies are the best blood and skin cures manufactured. I refer to druggist John P. Finlay and Dr. D. C. Montgomery, both of this place, and to Dr. Smith, of Lake Lee, Miss.

ALEXANDER BEACH, Greenville, Miss.

Mr. Beach used the Cuticura Remedies, at our request, with results as above stated.

SAVED MY MOTHER'S LIFE.

Ever since I can remember, my mother has suffered from a milk leg. Nothing would do her any good. She had the best medical talent, but they all did her no good. She suffered with her leg for thirty years and never knew a well day. She would have to sit up half the night, holding up her leg and moaning. She had no peace. She used all the best known remedies in the country without effect. I asked her to try your Cuticura Remedies. Got her a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, and she took it, and has taken in all about six or seven bottles and now she is a well woman today. Her leg is entirely healed, and her health was never better. She can go out every day, something she has not done in ten years, so you see I cannot help stating to you about your wonderful Cuticura Remedies. You have saved my mother's life. I cannot find words to express my gratitude. I have advertised your Cuticura Remedies far and near.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing deebted, smell or taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvelous curative power of Sanford's Radical Cure manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and one Improved Inhaler, price $1.

WEAK, UNDEVELOPED PARTS Of the body enlarged and strengthened by Dr. Kline's Appliances. Pamphlets sent sealed free. ERIE MED. CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

A Boon

To mankind, said a member of the State Medical Society of Ga., at one of its meetings, "and the prescription ought to be given to the medical fraternity for the benefit of the Profession, for no such combination exists in the Pharmacopea as that of Simmons Liver Regulator." The late THOS. H. POWERS, of Philadelphia, America's greatest chemist, asserted "it was like the discovery of Dover, in his celebrated Dover's Powder, it could not be improved and it was wonderfully strange that the combination had never been made in an officinal form."

L. M. HINTON, M. D., Washington, Ark., says: "No other remedy within my knowledge can fill its place. I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive powers."

Symptoms such as bitter or bad taste in the mouth; pain in the back, often mistaken for Rheumatism; sour stomach; loss of appetite; bowels alternately costive and lax; headache; loss of memory, with a painful sensation of having failed to do something which ought to have been done; debility; low spirits; a thick yellow appearance of the skin and eyes; a dry cough often mistaken for Consumption, indicate Liver disease, and if not regulated in time great suffering, wretchedness and death will often ensue.

Price $1. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by J. H. ZEILIN & Co., Philadelphia, Pa

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescribably miserable, both physically and mentally; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "goneness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flushes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Diseases, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

CURES ALL HUMORS,

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, "White Swellings," Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large Treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a Treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength and bodily health will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "CONSUMPTION CURE," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

Sold by Druggists, at $1.00, or Six Bottles for $5.00.

THE STOREKEEPERS TERROR.

Playing the Game of Shop Borrowing. Revenges of the Saleswomen.

The cheeky woman now in mind is self possessed, smiling and well dressed. She is the terror of storekeepers. Recently a specimen of this class had a piece of fine needlework that her own sewing machine could not do. She knew of one in the market that could, and so she went to the office, talked prices and quality, asked permission to try it on the spot, took a roll from her shopping bag, stitched an hour till the job was done, expressed entire satisfaction with the machine and price, gave her name, street and number, with an order for one of the best, and went her way. The agent never saw her again, and found no machine was wanted at the street and number designated. She would be horrified at the hint of shoplifting. Her little game is different. It is shop borrowing. This same woman was invited to an out of town reception. She wanted a more elegant outside garment than her own for the occasion, and she got it. Going to one of the largest establishments, she tried on and tried on wraps, trying at the same time the patience of the saleswoman, as she always came back to one, the most elegant of the lot, and seemed just on the point of choosing it. Finally she begged permission to take it home to show her husband, feeling certain he would approve. The garment was sent home, was worn at the reception, and returned with a polite note and regrets that it was not found satisfactory.

But the saleswomen get their little revenges. They remember faces and bestow their own titles. "Here comes a tough," goes down the line of clerks when one of this class appears, no matter how richly she is dressed. "I'm ready for you" is in the eye of the saleswoman she pauses before. It is a counter of ribbon sashes, glowing like a rainbow in soft colors. The "tough" looks at a score of them; the green one ought to be blue, the pink heliotrope, and so on, and finally she declares they are cheap things. "You know I never buy cheap goods." The girl apologizes, runs her hand under the pile, draws out several of the same quality and price, names a figure double that, however, and the customer buys three!

"It is my business to sell goods," she explains to a friend. "I have to adapt myself to my customer. The other day a tough was looking at plush at $1.50. She wanted something better after she had worried the life out of me. I took from the shelves a piece of the same quality, said she could have that for $2.50, and she bought a quantity of it perfectly satisfied. Half the time the tough doesn't know what she wants or how much. Think of the mother of a family asking me how much she wants for a girl of 5! It is my business to sell goods, so I name a good pattern. When she comes back for two yards more to make a dress of it for herself, and scolds me for selling her too much, I don't care; my business is to sell goods."

"Do you keep the extra money?"

"Never! Everything goes to the cashier, who makes the change. Sometimes we get some of it back in 'spiff' money. That is the per cent. we have for selling old goods. But when a lady throws a pair of slippers almost in my face and says, 'Do you think I've got such big feet as that?' I get a little pay for my pains by sending up seventy-five cents more than the pair she buys are worth. I don't want her money."—New York Sun.

The Grand Duke's Marriage.

The czar, in the midst of his other troubles, has just had to decide a delicate family matter. Duke Nicholas, his cousin, and one of his aides de camp, has fallen in love with a middle aged widow. That would not have been anything very unusual for a Russian grand duke to do, but Nicholas went further. He actually insisted on marrying the lady. There was a great to do in the imperial family. Nicholas remained obdurate, and finally appealed to the czar, and induced him as the head of the family to give his consent to the match. It need scarcely be said that the marriage will be a morganatic one. The imperial bridegroom is 31 years of age and the bride is 40.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Sweet Confession.

"Dear, dear George," whispered a girl, resting her young head trustfully on the manly bosom of the handsome youth who had just asked her to be his bride. "I am so glad, darling, that you do love me. I—I—I—will it be immodest for me to say it so soon, George? but I hoped you loved me long ago, and I have tried to read the truth in your dear eyes and face, and I thought I did read it there sometimes, and then again I would fear it was all—all—forgive me, my love, for my injustice and blindness—I feared it was all—guff!"—Detroit Free Press.

He Understood the Business.

First Beggar—Why didn't you tackle that lady? She might have given you something.

Second Beggar—I let her go because I understand my business better than you do. I never ask a woman for anything when she is alone; but when two women are together you can get money from both, because each one is afraid the other will think her stingy if she refuses. This profession has to be studied, just like any other, if you expect to make it a success. —Texas Siftings.

Bernhardt's Superstitions.

When Richepin's "Macbeth" was brought out some time ago at the Porte St. Martin, in Paris, the "divine Sarah" had a notion that the playing or singing of the witches' music would certainly entail misfortune upon her, consequently some other composition had to take its place. She also displays, it is said, a positive horror of anything of saffron tint. —New York Sun.

The City of Mexico's Rings.

Nearly $350,000 has been spent in the city of Mexico in fitting up the six rings in which bull fights are held. Of these the most elaborate is the Colon ring, on which $100,000 was expended. The Paseo and S. Rafael, which cost $103,000, have already earned the amount invested.—New York Evening World.

Hunger the Best Sauce.

Woman (who has given some mince pie to tramp)—You seem to be hungry.

Tramp—That goes without saying, which is a bit of badly Anglicized French, ma'am, meaning, in our more vigorous English, "you can bet your sweet life I am," or I wouldn't be able to get away with much of this pie.—New York Sun.

Hostility to Religious Liberty.

The Massachusetts Republicans are assuming an attitude of hostility to religious liberty. They want to prove to the world that there is no Jeffersonian Democracy about them.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Trans-Caspian Railroad.

The United States did some great railroad building last year, but the czar, too, is a handy railroad builder when it becomes a case of national policy. The trans-Caspian road is being pushed with vigor. In Bokhara a few years ago it didn't pay to be a white man. Today 7,000 men are grading this great road, which crosses the Oxus on a bridge three miles long, one of the largest of its kind in the world. In the spring the line between the western world and Samarcand, the capital of that ancient prince of butchers, Tamerlane, will be ready for business.—Inter Ocean.

An Actor's Eccentricity.

Many stories of Richard Mansfield's eccentricities have been circulated, but two of the best still remain to be told. The actor has such a strong antipathy to the creaking of shoes that he compels the stage hands to wear rubber gear while they are working. While he was in St. Louis recently one of the carpenters happened to sneeze, whereupon the irate Mansfield ordered him never to sneeze upon the stage again, but to run out into the alley when he felt the sensation coming on him.—Chicago Herald.

Use of Green Paper.

Several of the French railroad companies and other public bodies have resolved to have their printing done on green instead of white paper. The reason for the change is that they believe the combination of white paper with black characters endangers the eyesight of their work people. Black on green has always been recognized as a good combination, and many railroad tickets are so printed. —Frank Leslie's.

Gold Mines in Wales.

It is announced that gold has been found in Wales, "on Guynfnydd farm, near Iransfyndd, between the beautiful waterfalls of Pistylly Cain and Rhajadr Mawddach."—New York Sun.

No other medicine is so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, for the cure of coughs, colds, and all derangements of the respiratory organs. It relieves the asthmatic and consumptive, even in advanced stages of the disease.

Praise Your Wife.

Praise your wife, man; for pity's sake give her a little encouragement; it won't hurt her. She doesn't expect it; it will make her eyes open wider than they have for the last ten years; but it will do her good for all that, and you, too. There are many women to-day thirsting for a word of praise and encouragement. You know that if the floor is clean, labor has been performed to make it so. You know that if you can take from your drawer a clean shirt whenever you want it, somebody's fingers have toiled. Why don't you come out with it hearty, "Why, how pleasant you make things look, wife," or "I am obliged to you for taking so much pains." If you gave a hundred and sixtieth part of the compliments you almost choked them with before they were married; if you would stop the badinage of whom you are going to have when number one is dead. (such things wives may laugh at, but they sink deep sometimes), fewer women would seek for other sources of happiness.—Columbus Telegram.

Constipation Has Many Victims, and the endeavor to find relief with the cathartic, the injection, the aperient and laxative are distressing. These are resorted to time and again, until the sufferer is almost in despair, as he gains only a brief respite.

By taking Simmons Liver Regulator, the bowels will be gently moved as naturally as if no medicine had been taken. Regularity in taking the medicine will soon effect a permanent relief.

Canine Villains.

The "Bunjara," a dog from twenty-four to twenty-eight inches in height at the shoulders, is beyond description the most ferocious of all the breeds of dogs that I have ever known. He is, like his master, a born villain. No coaxing or blandishments avail with him; he will tear and rend his best friend and will devour his "sisters, his cousins or his aunts" with impunity. I say like his master, as the only persons who own "Bunjaras" are the criminal tribes, and principally the "Bunjara" tribe. Now, the "Bunjara" people, by their caste, are born rogues and vagabonds, and the more evil they can do, the more wrongs they can commit, the softer their bed and the more pleasurable their life in Valhalla when they die, which many say they seldom do—naturally. The "Bunjara" dog is like this, only more so. He is a cunning fox, an insatiable hater, a consummate villain, yet he has some good points. He can and will hold out to the last gasp; he never tires, and to one and only one does he ever give his allegiance, and to him he sticks. Of women he is a despiser, regarding them as his master does—only as a "means to an end." In color he is dark-brown or gray, shading to black; his coat is close like a mastiff's, but tufted on the elbows and hocks, and feathered down inside of fore legs; his tail is carried low, except when excited, and has a good deal of brush, especially at tip; his ears are flat to the head and only slightly raised on occasion. He his used exclusively for hunting and only by natives—never by Europeans.

Syrup of Figs.

Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal., is Nature's own true laxative. This pleasant California liquid fruit remedy may be had of Theime and Gross, druggists, large bottles at [illegible] cents or one dollar. It is the most [illegible]ant, prompt, and effective remedy [illegible]own to cleanse the system; to act on the Liver, Kidneys, and bowels gently yet thoroughly; to dispel Headaches, Colds and Fevers; to cure Constipation, Indigestion, and kindred ills.

He Was Like the Moon.

A plain spoken country preacher in Texas was called upon to make a few remarks at the grave of a man who was somewhat unpopular, and who during his life was much addicted to drink. The preacher fulfilled his task in the following words:

"With what shall I compare the deceased remains? Shall I compare him to the sun? No never. The sun blinds people with its brilliancy. The deceased never blinded anybody with his brilliancy. Shall I compare him with the stars. No, not with the stars that can only be seen at night. Our late friend could be seen both day and night, at the saloons. I think, on the whole, we had better compare him with the moon. The moon gets full every once in a while, and so did the deceased. I've heard that the moon borrows its light and so did the remains, for he smoked a great deal and was always letting his cigar go out. Peace to his ashes.—Texas Siftings.

Rheumatism

Is undoubtedly caused by lactid acid in the blood. This acid attacks the fibrous tissues, and causes the pains and aches in the back, shoulders, knees, ankles, hips, and wrists. Thousands of people have found in Hood's Sarsaparilla a positive cure for rheumatism. This medicine, by its purifying action, neutralizes the acidity of the blood, and also builds up and strengthens the whole body.

Ben Butler and the Apple.

An old-timer who was in the mob said: "I was quite a shaver at the time Gen. Butler made his famous speech in this city. It was not made in Union Square, but in the city hall park opposite the city hall, alongside the old, hideous statue of Washington, which stood a few feet from where the present park fountain stands. Butler did not take an apple out of his pocket. The fact is the mob had been throwing all sorts of things at the General, none of which hit him, but some fellow in the crowd, with a more accurate aim than that of the others, threw an apple which hit him plump in the stomach. As the apple struck him he instinctively slapped his hand over his stomach, and in doing so caught the apple against his vest. It was then that he deliberately took out his penknife, coolly proceded to peel it, and then began eating it. The mob, which had up to this time been savage in its attacks, broke out in roars of laughter, and Butler won the day. The speech he delivered was a 'corker,' One of the mildest things that he told his listeners was that when he was in New Orleans he had hanged better men than they were.—New York Telegram.

"My little son, three years of age, was terribly afflicted with scrofula. His head was entirely covered with scrofulous sores, and his body showed many marks of the disease. A few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured him."—W. J. Beckett, Hymera, Ind.

THE New York City elevated and surface railroads carried last year 358,538,198 passengers, for which they received in 5-cent fares upward of $17,000,000. The profits, after paying all expenses, were about $8,000,000.

LOCAL NEWS.

Harry Downey, of Richmond, Ind., is visiting friends in the city.

Drs. Dills, Sweringen and Dinnen examined pensioners yesterday.

Israel Luther, of New Haven, was yesterday granted a pension.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Olds left last night for Florida to spend the winter.

Mr. J. H. Wilder, the secretary of N. G. Olds & Sons, went south this morning.

The sale of seats for the funniest comedy ever written, "Natural Gas," opened this morning.

Miss Bertha Harrison, of Charles street, who has been quite ill for several days, is now improving.

Mr. Tom A. Dean, manager of the cigar department of A. Kieter & Co., of Indianapolis, is in the city.

Mrs. Henry Nix, of No. 531 East Wayne street, is suffering with a very painful cancer on her finger.

Frank Wise has been promoted to succeed Fred Thieme as assistant ticket agent at the Nickel Plate office.

The earnings for the Wabash for the fourth week of January were $146,776, an increase of $4,739 over the same period of last year.

To-morrow is pay day at the Bass works, the Kerr Murray foundry, the Horton Manufacturing company and the Pennington works.

Frank Thumm and Carrie Stahl, Deidrich F. W. Nahrwald and Augusta Meyer, George J. Welker and Lillie Freitag, have been licensed to wed.

In "Natural Gas," Manager Simonson promises the funniest show of the season and as he generally sticks to his word, the play will be a splendid one.

George L. Potter has sold to R. M. French and Maria French, lot 87, Hanna's addition, for $5,000; Henry M. Williams to William Heine lot 68, South Calhoun street, for $225.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Roberts, of New York City, are guests of the Aveline house. Mr. Roberts is manager of the Jennie Yeamen's company and Mrs. Roberts is pleasantly remembered in Fort Wayne society as Miss Fannie Dillon.

The company presenting "Natural Gas" is without an exception the strongest comedy company traveling. Among the principal actors we notice Amy Ames, Rachel Booth, May Yohe, Gus Henessy, Frank Cushman and Messrs. Gilbert, Donnelly and Girard. Every member is a star.

The large boiler formerly used in the Pittsburg car shops, is being placed in the blacksmith department to-day for the purpose of running the machinery of the blacksmith, boiler and copper shops and the electric light. It will also heat the copper and boiler departments and the round house. The boiler is a large one and the stack is seventy feet high.

Every year, Pastor Northrop has one or more men's mass meetings They have become so popular and beneficial, that he has planned such a service next Lord's day, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Baptist church. To see 600 men in a body worshiping God is an imposing sight. Men from shop, store and office should not fail to attend this meeting. Twenty-five young men of the congregation will lead the song service. Do not forget the hour.

The Columbia City Post has this pleasant personal mention: "Will O'Rourke, a young attorney of Fort Wayne, was in town on Saturday and gave the Post a pleasant call—Harry Hanna, of Fort Wayne, was in the city on Monday. Mr. Hanna is prominently mentioned as a candidate for congress on the republican ticket.—Mr. S. B. Bond, president of the old National bank at Fort Wayne, was in the city several days last week. He is one of the owners of the extensive sand stone quarries at Stony Point, Mich."

At a meeting of the Columbia City council last Saturday evening, a contract was closed with the Ruch Brothers for lighting the streets of that city with the Jenney arc lights. There will be twenty-six lights in number and each light will be of two thousand candle power. The contract is for a term of five years, the plant to be in full operation within three months. The firm will also furnish incandescent lights for individual use, and for this purpose is given the exclusive right to erect poles and spring wires in the streets and alleys for five years. For each street light the city agrees to pay $75 per year, the lights only to be kept burning until midnight.

The Benward ditch, in Lake and Eel River townships, and the Smith ditch in Eel River will be sold at the county auditor's office to-morrow.

The Fort Wayne brick layers demand an advance in wages of 3 cents an hour. The contractors will have to give it to them, or lay brick themselves.

Let everybody prepare to have a good night's enjoyment at the Temple, Saturday next, when "Natural Gas" will be first lighted in the city of Fort Wayne.

Mentone, a flourishing village west of here, on the Nickel Plate road, is greatly afflicted with the measles. Out of a population of 1,000 about 150 have had the disease.

Freeman King died yesterday morning at his late residence, in Pleasant township, by reason of injuries caused by a fall, which occurred on the 4th instant. The funeral will take place to-morrow.

The Trade and Labor council, at its meeting Tuesday night, decided to attend the meeting, at the circuit court room, Saturday night, in a body. The meeting will be in the interest of the Reading railway strikers.

Little Rilla Bowersock, of Lafayette township, has gone to school for six years, and during that time has never missed a day or been tardy a minute How many of the boys and girls in the country schools can say as much?

Mr. C. M. Crawford, the pleasant postmaster of Pierceton, Ind., was in the city last evening, the guest of Postmaster Kaough. In company with a lady of the west end, Postmaster Crawford was at the Temple to see Joe Murphy.

Clerk Dan Souder, of the Superior court, was sick yesterday and Harry Metzgar officiated in the injunction tribunal. He tells us that: "In the water works trustees' injunction case, the restraining order was modified so as to expire February 11, 1888, at 10 o'clock, when the motion for injunction will be heard."

You are invited to the weekly prayer meeting, at the residence of J. W. Minnich, 73 West Fourth street, Bloomingdale, on Friday evening, Feb. 10. These meetings were organized under the auspices of the R. R. Y. M. C. A., and have become so popular and interesting that the houses will hardly hold the people that attend, but there is always room for one more. Come and bring a friend.

More than $10,000,000 worth of oysters were shipped from Maryland to all parts of the world this season. Over 50,000 persons are employed in the industry in the state and it supports besides 1,500 schooners and sloops. To enforce the law for the regulation of these vessels the state maintains an "oyster navy," consisting of five steamers, six schooners and eight sloops.

The South Bend Times cautions farmers not to buy foreign potatoes for seeding purposes. From October 1 to January 15 over 370,000 barrels of foreign potatoes were imported and readily sold. Those potatoes are excellent for eating purposes, but experience has proven that they will not bear if planted in this country. This statement is made upon trustworthy authority. Our farmers who tried it six years ago have probably not forgotten their experience.

"For I am declined into the value of years," she said a little sadly, "but indeed I don't much mind it since I can get Salvation Oil for 25 cents."

The Scottish rite Masons of the valley of Fort Wayne will hold an important conclave at the Masonic Temple parlors to-night. Prominent Masons from all parts of the state will be present.

Col. C. A. Zollinger, the state pension agent, is in the city. The colonel has a host of friends in Fort Wayne and it will please them to know that he is mentioned as a splendid candidate for governor.

A very interesting meeting was held at the St. Paul M. E. church last night. The attendance was very large and there were seven accessions to the church. A communion service of unusual interest will be held this evening at 7:30. Rev. C. W. Lynch and Rev. F. G. Wyne will be present and administer the sacrament.

Daniel Lewis, an engineer on the Grand Rapids road, who was taken suddenly sick in this city a few days ago, died last night at 11 o'clock of uremic poisoning. The deceased was thirty-five years old and had a large circle of friends in this city who will mourn his sad and early death. His home was at Kalamazoo, Mich., where he has a wife and one child. His remains were shipped to that place this morning. Mr. Lewis was one of the best trainmen on the road and had recently received a promotion to the engineership of a passenger locomotive.

POLICE COURT.

Quite a Chapter Added to the Criminal Record—A Sneak Thief Caught.

Esquire Daniel Ryan presided at police court this morning with customary dignity.

His first business was to sentence six vagrants to jail.

Two drunks, Frank Smith and Charles Stoahoff, said guilty and waltzed over the Nickel Plate singing, "We're the plumbers of the town."

Frank Meeks, the young man charged with disturbing a prayer meeting at the United Brethren church, asked for a continuance and will have a hearing to-morrow.

Albert Stenner, a wayward youth, was up on a charge of larceny. He stole a Pullman car lantern some time ago, but escaped prosecution. His father gave him $16 to go to Grand Rapids, but instead the lad went on a drunk and held forth at a queer house on Lafayette street. Justice Ryan gave him a fifteen day jail sentence.

The next gentleman to look up into his honor's face was Charles Johnson, of Detroit. About 6 o'clock last evening he dropped into Horace Mariotte's second hand store and asked what they would give for a seal skin cloak Mr. Marriotte said he would not name a price until he saw the goods. The stranger promised to return in an hour and did so, but Mr. Mariotte, suspecting it was the cloak stolen from Mr. Frieburger Saturday last, notified the police. When Mr. Johnson returned with his plunder Officer Humbrecht put iron bracelets on him and locked him up. He had in his possession the seal skin cloak, the seal mits, the shawl and silk umbrella stolen from Mr. Frieburger's home and they will be restored to their owner.

This morning the prisoner gave his name as Charles Johnson. He pleaded not guilty and demanded time to employ an attorney. The case was therefore continued and his bail was fixed at $500.

JOHN M'CAIN.

He Was Robbed at Los Angeles and is Now a Total Wreck on the Pacific Coast.

Mr. C. B. Woodworth this morning received a letter from his father, Dr. B. S. Woodworth, who is now at Riverside, Cal. The doctor writes that at Colton, a station between Los Angeles and Riverside, he met John McCain, the former proprietor of the Home billiard hall, in this city.

McCain was under the influence of liquor at the time. His clothes were soiled and ragged, his personal appearance decidedly dilapidated and not a cent in his pocket. He explained to Dr. Woodworth that at Los Angeles he was waylaid and robbed of his gold watch and chain, together with his money. He exhibited an ugly scar on his forehead as proof of his story and then negotiated a cash loan from the doctor.

The man is a total wreck, but he says he wants to come home and stay.

FATALLY HURT.

William Walden, a Pittsburg Switchman, Pinched.

Early this morning William Walden, a switchman employed in the east Pittsburg and Fort Wayne railroad yards, attempted to make a coupling. He stood in front of a car holding a coupling pin, when another approaching car came up and wedged him between the dead wood. The irons caught him directly in the stomach and held him in their vice-like grasp for a minute or so.

He was bruised so badly that he had to be carried to the Sordelet boarding house near by. His injuries are internal and the physicians are afraid he cannot live.

He is twenty-eight years old and hails from West Penbrook, N. Y., where his mother lives.

A New Departure.

The state superintendent will this year send to the county superintendents of the state lists of questions for the examination of pupils in the advanced grade of the district schools. The questions will be furnished for the third Saturday of February, March and April. Mr. Felts will endeavor to have most of the examinations in this county on the third Saturday of March. The examinations will, in all probability, be held at the center schools of the various townships.

THE BIDDERS.

Figures on the New Columbia City Court House.

Yesterday THE SENTINEL noted the fact that Joseph S. Baker, of Warsaw, had been awarded the contract to erect the new stone court house, at Columbia City. The following proposals for the work will interest:

First came the bid of Christian Boseker, of Fort Wayne, whose bid was the following:

Stony Point, Mich	$142,488
Bedford, Ind	145,400

The bid of Joseph S. Baker, of Warsaw, was the following:

Stony Point, Mich	$124,789
Berea, Ohio	122,000
Leasville, Ohio	124,900
Bedford, Ind	124,989
Ellettsville, Ind	124,700
Steinsville, Ind	124,700
Hoosier Stone Co., (Bedford)	124,700

The bid of McCormack & Redmond, of Columbus, Indiana, was the following:

Stony Point	$143,867
Berea	139 387
Bedford	144,367
Ellettsville	147,367

Mr. Boseker also bid $300 for the old court house, Mr. Baker, $107, and McCormack & Redmond, $400. Mr. Baker, being the lowest bidder, was awarded the contract to erect the new building for $124,700, using stone from the Hoosier stone quarry at Bedford.

Mr. Baker, the gentleman who was awarded the contract for the building, was auditor of Kosciusko county for two terms and is a cousin of the editor of the Columbia City Commercial. Before being elected auditor he was a commercial traveler for a Toledo house, and is known to be a hustler from away back.

The contract is quite a compliment to Mr. Brent Tolan, of Fort Wayne, the architect, who estimated the building at $125,000. Mr. Baker will begin operations as soon as the weather permits and will push it until the structure is completed.

A BLACK RECORD.

Republican Rule Shown Up—We Want No More of It.

For twenty-three years, man and boy, the Republican party acted as though it was the absolute mentor of the republic. It were long to tell of the violence of its reign, and the unbroken night of its despotism. Its deeds of darkness would fill a volume. Its rogueries were as the sands upon the sea shore; its violations of the constitution as the leaves upon the trees. Every office that existed at the time of its ascendancy, or that was created afterward, was filled with a partisan, and not only a mere partisan in a multitude of cases, but an officious, offensive and aggressive partisan—one of the gadfly kind, pestiferous, insectiverous, and always on the wing. In a political sense, a Democrat was not only a hewer of wood and a drawer of water, but he belonged to an inferior race of human beings, deficient in mentality, and utterly incapable of sharing in the administration of the government because of it, even if he had not been a traitor per se, whose rights the results of the civil war had forfeited, and whose future toleration or citizenship in the land would have to depend much upon his future actions. If these brought forth fruits meet for repentance—for example, if he put on a collar of political serfdom, and had engraved thereon the single word "slave"—his domicile might safely then be vouchsafed, and the graciousness still be extended to him of paying taxes and inhaling a sufficient amount of atmospheric oxygen upon which to exist.

Times changed, but not Republican insolence, self assurance and imperialism. It had been so used to proconsuls. So many of the ways of the satrap were its ways. It had walked so along its paths that had never been beset by hostile force or lurking danger. Its table service had been so long of silver and gold, and its garments so long of purple and fine linen. The fat was so thick upon its political corporosity that it would be a Jeshurun forever, kicking when and where and whom it pleased. The shoulder strap had for so long been its sheet anchor, the military order for so long its ultimatum. Federal spoils for so long had furnished it perfect cohesion; the iron of its war begetting had so long furnished it perfect discipline. So long had been the sound sleep of its undisturbed confidence, and so thoroughly did it believe in the constant iteration and reiteration of its own hypocrisy and cant, that when one fine day the Democratic wolf did come along sure enough, all it could do, when outside there arose a tremendous hue and cry, was to poke its head through a window and blubber impotently: "How dare you!" —Kansas City Times.

Confidence Begets Contests.

The Democratic prospect of carrying New York in the next election is so good that there is naturally a little rivalry for the control of the party's organization. The New York committeeman may mean something in a party that has carried the state five times in succession. With the Republicans the case is very different. They have been beaten in New York until it became a matter of indifference to them to see little Boss Platt "get away" with their state committee and put a mortgage on the senate. It is confidence that begets contests.—New York World.

PAYS THE PENALTY.

A Murderer Hung, Who Smiles as the Cap is Being Drawn Over His Face.

UTICA, N. Y., Feb. 9.—Clement A. Day was executed in the Utica jail at 10:34 this morning. The crime for which Day was hanged was the murder of his paramour, Johanna Rosacross.

Walking over the ice to the jail yard he laughed heartily over the falls of the sheriff, Rev. E. Owen, the newspaper reporter and Special Deputy Burke, exclaiming: "That's four of them." He yawled while his legs were being strapped on the scaffold. He assisted Deputy Ballow in adjusting the rope about his neck and smiled as the cap was being drawn over his face.

YOUTHFUL MARRIAGE.

Hard Luck of a Twelve Year Old Girl Who Has Been Married Twice.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Feb. 9.—The police yesterday arrested Annie Stevenson, aged twelve, on the charge of vagrancy. She was given a light fine by the recorder and last evening was put aboard a train for Hickory Station, Grundy county, Mo., where her father lives. She has twice been married and had two children by her first husband, Robert Patterson, whose wife she became when she was ten years old. Patterson was seventeen. She was married thus young because her father had deserted her and Patterson offered to protect her. Her husband and two babies died and she went again to her father, who then lived near Mound City, Mo.

There she became acquainted with John Stevenson, twenty-three years old, to whom she was married about three months ago. Stevenson left her a couple of weeks ago, and she came to St. Joseph to look for him. Her destination induced the police to take charge of her. She is rather small for her age, and looks younger than twelve years. She is quite pretty and intelligent, and says she still loves her husband. He left her she thinks, because he was poor and wanted to get a start in the world.

HE REMAINS DEAD.

A Chinaman's Dead Body Held in Expectation of Resurrection.

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—The body of Hop Lung Sing, a Chinese laundryman, is in a coffin at Tinkham's undertaking shop awaiting resurrection. The time for him to get up out of his coffin and walk, according to two of his countrymen, expired yesterday, but he has not arisen. To-day, probably, he will be buried. Hop Lung Sing died a week ago from natural causes at his laundry in Chelsea. He was taken to Tinkham's and laid out on ice.

Five days ago, at 2 o'clock in the morning, two Chinamen drove to Tinkham's house and woke him up. They were very anxious to visit the dead man and perform a mystic ceremony over the remains, being perfectly satisfied that after they had done so he would come to life in five days' time. Tinkham laughed at the idea, but the Chinamen were very much in earnest, and promised to pay him for his trouble if he would go. Finally Mr. Tinkham and his son-in-law dressed and went to the shop and let them in.

From beneath their capacious blouses they drew forth three live hens, which they killed by cutting off their heads and legs. With the blood which flowed from their necks, the Chinamen smeared the head and breast of the dead man, all the time murmuring some incantation in their own language and burning incense. They did other strange things with the body, and left, assuring Mr. Tinkham that Hop Lung Sing would come to life in five days from that time.

TOO LITTLE TO COUNT.

Birth of the Smallest Speck of Humanity on Record.

WELLS, Minn., Feb. 9—The "smallest baby in the world," at Lynn, Mass., has more than met his match in Faribault county. Saturday there was born to Mrs. Fred Miller, at Rice Lake, seven miles south of Wells, a speck of humanity that barely tipped the beam at one and one-half pounds. Its feet are not over an inch in length, and a gentleman's ordinary finger-ring will go over the foot and upon the ankle. A small child's teacup will cover its head. The father is a large, heavy man and the mother a very little under the ordinary size. The child at two days old was lively as a cricket and is a perfectly formed, healthy child.

An Ohio Manufactory Fails.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Feb. 9.—The Springfield Manufacturing company was placed in the hands of a receiver late yesterday afternoon. The company does a general manufacturing business. The liabilities are $120,000; assets, rated full value, $90,000. The company was pushed to the wall by banks in Cincinnati, Springfield, Troy, and other cities who held its paper, and threatened attachment proceedings.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, February 9.—Indiana: Light snow, preceded by fair weather in northern portion, slowly rising temperature.

ENGLAND'S QUEEN.

Her Speech is Read to Parliament—The Condition of the Crown Prince—Foreign News.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Parliament assembled to-day and the queen's speech was read. She announced the completion of demarcation of the Afghanistan boundary and hopes the work thus concluded may tend to remove the possibility of a misunderstanding between the two powers regarding the Asian possessions. She deeply regrets her efforts were not successful in dissuading the king of Abyssinia from war with Italy, and announces the continuance of the conference at Washington to adjust the questions between Canada and America. She says the estimates for services for 1888 have been framed, with due regard for economy, and the commons will be asked to provide for the improvement of the defense of the ports.

Speaking of the measures passed at the last session for the benefit of Ireland she says they have been carefully carried into effect with satisfactory results. Measures tending to develop the resources of Ireland and to facilitate and increase the number of the proprietors of the soil will be presented, also the subject of local government in England. Measures will be submitted for dealing with it in combination with the proposals for adjusting the relations between local and imperial finance and for mitigating the burdens imposed upon the rate payers. The other subjects for consideration are legislative proposals for cheapening the transfer of land, for modifying the procedure by which tithe rent charge is collected, for promoting technical education, for preventing undue preferences in rates charged by railway companies on foreign and domestic produce, for remedying abuses in the formation of companies under the limited liability act, for amending the law of liability of employers in case of accident.

SAN REMO, Feb. 9.—The breathing of the crown prince is much worse to-day, and a telegram was sent to Prof. Bergman to hasten his arrival.

It has been decided by the physicians in attendance upon the crown prince that the operation of tracheotomy must be performed to-day.

Noon—The doctors are doubtful whether it will be safe to await Dr. Bergmann's arrival. The crown prince breathes with the greatest difficulty.

AN OPERATION PERFORMED.

4:50 p. m.—Dr. Bergmann has successfully performed an operation of tracheotomy on the crown prince. The patient is progressing well.

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—The reichstag to-day passed the military loan bill without debate.

LOVE TRAGEDY.

Murders the Girl Who Rejected Him and Then Takes His Own Life.

PLATTSBURG, Mo., Feb. 9.—One of the most shocking tragedies ever enacted in this county occurred Tuesday at the residences of David Everett, a farmer, living two miles northeast of this city, where his daughter, Neva Everett, was shot and instantly killed while sitting by the side of her mother, by William Ball, a young man whose offer of marriage she had rejected. A moment later Ball placed the revolver to his head and fired falling dead on the floor.

Mr. Everett said that young Ball had worked for him at different times and he came to his house late last night to stay all night. This morning he proposed to to help Everett kill hogs. While at work he made frequent trips to the house. Finally Miss Everett called her father and asked him to send Ball away, as she was afraid of him. Everett notified Ball that he would not need him longer, and that he could go. This was about 9 o'clock. Ball started as if to leave, going across toward the road, but when he had passed Everett's stable he turned and went into the kitchen. Mrs. Everett and two little children and Miss Everett were in the room.

He asked Mrs. Everett if she had any objections to his talking to Miss Neva for a minute. She told him no, not if Neva wished him to. He then asked the young lady to step into the other room with him for two minutes, as he wished to talk to her.

She told him if he had anything to say to her she preferred he would say it in the presence of her mother. He instantly fired at her, striking her in the back of the head at the base of the skull, the ball passing clear through her head. Miss Neva fell into her mother's arms, who was sitting within two feet of her, and expired without a word or struggle.

After firing the shot Ball walked into the next room, placed the muzzle of the revolver to his temple and pulled the trigger, falling dead within twenty feet of the dead girl. Ball was but twenty-one years old, and had been here about two years. Miss Everett was in her sixteenth year, and was quite a belle in the neighborhood. She was quite handsome and noted for her amiable disposition.

His Findlay Speculations.

FINDLAY, O., Feb. 9.—John R. DeCamp, late vice president of the Metropolitan National bank, of Cincinnati, did not speculate very largely in Findlay real estate, as alleged. His entire investments here did not aggregate $5,000, and the property could not be sold to-day for twice that sum, according to the testimony of those in a position to know.

BENJ. EGGLESTON!

The Prominent Ohio Ex-Congressman Dies This Morning at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 9.—Hon. Benj. Eggleston died this morning at the Walnut Street house, where he was taken for treatment. For three years he has been incapacitated for business by an affection of the brain, during which time he has been at the home of his brother in Hocking county. The sudden change in his trouble required special treatment, and for this purpose he was brought here a short time ago.

Mr. Eggleston was in many public positions during his life time. He served thirty years in the city council, served two terms in congress, three terms in the Ohio senate, and was always prominent in political work. He was 72 years of age.

THE CONDUCTORS.

The Congressional Committee Report Adversely to Their License.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The house committee on labor to-day decided to report adversely to the bill to license railway conductors.

Failures.

CHICAGO, February 9.—The failure of Beasley Bros., a board of trade firm of thirty years standing, was announced this morning. Liabilities unknown.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, February 9.—Frank V. Sowles, a lumber dealer of Avondale, has assigned to Charles J. Hunt. Liabilities, $35,000; assets, $40,000. The failure is attributed to the suspension of the Metropolitan bank. Sowles is a brother-in-law of John R. Decamp, the late vice president of that bank. Preferences were made in favor ow David W. Sowles for $7,000, the Sleson & Lilly Lumber Co., $2,500; Adele T. Decamp, $1,000, and others aggregating $1,200.

Presidential Straws.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—In reply to inquiries as to the choice or preference of Illinois editors for president and governor, the Chicago Evening Journal has so far received sixty-nine replies, with the following results:

For president—Republicans: Robert T. Lincoln, 13; James G. Blaine, 10; Shelby M. Cullom, 6; Walter Q. Gresham, 4; Joseph R. Hawley, 3; John Sherman, 2; Philip H. Sheridan, 2; George W. Childs, 1.

Democrats: Grover Cleveland, 22; John C. Black, 1.

Greenback: Jesse Harper, 1.

Prohibitionist: John P. St. John, 1; no choice, 3.

Maxwell's Case.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 9.—Advices from Washington, D. C., say that Mr. Brooks, of England, the father of Hugh M. Brooks, alias Maxwell, the chloroformer, accompanied by John I. Martin, his son's chief counsel, are in the city, and that an application will be made to the supreme court for a hearing of the Maxwell case. This, it is said, will prevent the issuance of the court's mandate for this term and give counsel time to consider what other means, if any, can be used to save the young man from the gallows.

A Horrible Accident.

DELAWARE, O., Feb. 9.—John Williams, of Thompson township, this county, while splitting wood Tuesday, his twelve-year-old son was piling it up, the boy stooped down suddenly to pick up a piece of wood, just as the axe was descending with a terrific force. To the father's horror the blade struck the boy in the back of the head and cut the skull almost in twain. The boy died in a few minutes. Williams is almost crazed with grief.

Election of an Archabbot.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 9.—The election at St. Vincent's Abbey of a successor to the late Archabbot Wimmer, of the Benedictine order, took place yesterday, and resulted in the choice of Rev. Innocent Wolf, the present abbot of Atchinson, Kas. About 150 members of the order from different portions of the country were present. The district embraces a large area, including Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Maryland.

Tar and Feather Case Settled.

MANSFIELD, Feb. 9.—The jury in the the $20,000 damage case of Simon Dolph against some sixteen well-known residents of the northern part of the county, charged with tarring and feathering the plaintiff in August, 1886, returned a verdict of $75 for the plaintiff and $200 fees for his attorneys.

Walking Match.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—In the walking match, at 10 o'clock, Albert was four miles and three laps ahead of the best record for eighty-two hours.

The First Presbyterian church social occurs to-night at the church parlors. The valentine sale will be a feature of the evening.

Circuit Court.

Before Judge Edward O'Rourke:

The jury in the Conway-Vizzard case are out.

The case of Jacob Browg vs. Dr. L. B. Casebeer, from Auburn, is dismissed.

The suit of James Chapman vs. Sol. Chapman was sent to Whitley county for trial.

THE CAPITAL CITY.

The Proceedings of the House and Senate—Riddleberger and the British Lion's Tail.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The ways and means committee decided to report favorably the Mills bill to authorize the secretary of treasury to apply the surplus money now in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, or so much thereof as he may consider proper, to the purchase or redemption of the United States bonds.

SENATE.

Mr. Riddleberger's resolution for amending the rules so as to allow the British extradition treaty to be considered in open session, was reached in regular order. Mr. Riddleberger explained that the British lion's tail having been twisted by a vote of 23 to 21, the passage of the resolution was no longer necessary.

Senator Hawley and others called the Virginian to order and he sat down remarking that he supposed he had a right to say so much. Mr. Riddleberger's allusion was to vote in secret session last night, by which the consideration of the treaty was postponed to next December.

The president sent the name of B. F. Wade to the senate as United States marshal for the northern district of Ohio.

LOCAL NEWS.

Edward Bridler and Dora Parker have been licensed to wed.

Sheriff Viberg will take John Raeffle to the state insane asylum to-morrow.

Col. Sam B. Sweet is in the city to attend the Scottish rite convocation to-night.

Tim O'Connor, the book agent, will practice law after he gets through with Officer Sheridan's suit.

A. S. Lauferty & Co. threw their handsome clothing store open to the public to-day. Their public inspection is to-night.

The ladies' sewing society of the Second Presbyterian church will meet at the parsonage, on West Berry street, to-morrow afternoon.

Judge Chapin over-ruled the motion for a new trial in the suit of Wilkinson vs. Barbour and gave the plaintiff judgment for $70. An appeal was taken.

The valentine sale will be an exceedingly novel feature of the First Presbyterian church social to-night. Next Tuesday is Valentine's day and this will add interest to the social to-night.

George LaDuke, of Fort Wayne, who sent an obscene letter through the mail, was before Judge Woods, at Indianapolis, yesterday morning, was fined $100 and costs. He went to jail.

The Wabash board of trade has taken hold of the Wabash and Erie canal, and will recommend to the city council that the land which the ditch occupies be condemned and the property sold to the city.

The council of administration, G. A. R., department encampment, will meet at Indianapolis the evening of the 20th, and a hearing will be given representatives of Auten and Logansport posts, whose charters should have been annulled, in case the same should be requested.

Joe Murphy and his company gave their new play to a magnificent audience at the Temple last night. The "Donagh" is a pretty Irish drama and permits Murphy to introduce his songs and others of his company their jigs. The star is growing old, but he is as popular as ever. The company went to Indianapolis this afternoon.

The Lafayette Courier says: "Captain Reese, of the Twentieth Indiana, a resident of Fort Wayne, is visiting friends in the city, a guest of Col. W. C. L. Taylor and others. He exhibited a two-ounce bullet which he carried in his head for twenty-four years. The ball recently worked its way into the throat and dropped into his mouth during the night."

Colonel Jones' Speech.

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

The Budget of News Coming From the Railroads and Factories To-day is Very Dull.

Pay days are in order again.

The depots were very quiet and cold this morning.

The cold weather made most of the trains late this morning.

The ticket agents report railroad travel as very light to-day.

The Pittsburg boiler works are building a new boiler for the car shops.

The car building business is now greater than it has been for years.

The east bound passenger on the Wabash was an hour late this morning.

The two locomotive works at Pittsburg last year turned out 217 first-class locomotives.

Most of the departments of the Pittsburg shops are now running until 9 o'clock at night.

F. Carmody, a Grand Rapids engineer, has resigned to take charge of a locomotive on the Nickel Plate.

T. E. Short and John Palmer, Nickel Plate firemen, have been promoted to engineers of switch engines.

Charley Taylor, the Bass machinist, says his thermometer indicated 6 degrees below zero last evening.

William Keeley, a Pittsburg boiler maker, was taken suddenly ill yesterday and is now confined to his home.

Christ Daseler, the clerk in the Pittsburg car shops, says the cold weather froze his thermometer out last night.

Philip Sweeney and John Nesel, of the Pittsburg car shops, have returned to work after a short siege of sickness.

Glover Harrison, who has been railroading in the west for a time, is in the city and will take a position on one of our roads.

The moulding rooms of J. J. Stier and Frank Finke, of the Bass works, are closed down to-day on account of the funeral of Henry Clay.

Thomas Shepperd, of the Pittsburg boiler shops, who had just recovered from sickness, has had a relapse and was compelled to quit work again yesterday.

The railroad shops of the Clover Leaf at Delphos, which were shut down last week, and the employes discharged, resumed work Monday with a limited number of men.

The bill before the Ohio legislature, to compel railroad companies to pay semi-monthly, does not seem to meet with general approval among the employes.

Wm. Carpenter, a brakeman on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, whose home is at Andrews, Ind., was killed at Tiffin, Ohio, on Monday by being crushed between the cars. His remains were sent to Andrews.

Young Allhand, who was fireman on the train wrecked at Urbana, a few days ago, was stepson of John Pontius, ex-foreman of engines on the Pennsylvania lines. The father of Allhand was killed on the same switch engine four years ago.

The electric light has been used on all trains on which the czar and his family travel for some time past. A special commission has recently been appointed by the Russian minister of ways of communication to select the best system of electric lighting for railway carriages.

Col. J. H. Shinn, of Willshire, Ohio, a prominent railroad contractor, has secured the interest of prominent capitalists and citizens in an effort to construct immediately a new railroad from Toledo, Ohio, to Indianapolis, Ind., via. Delphos and Decatur, Ind., making a direct line between the two cities.

The superintendents of the lines in the Pennsylvania system west of Pittsburg are putting in their third week in Pittsburg in conference with the higher officials. It is intimated that a number of important changes are to be made in the methods of operating, more especially regarding the train service.

An employe of the Nickel Plate writes us as follows: "I noticed in your issue of Tuesday that you stated in your column headed 'Echoes of the Rail,' that the longest piece of straight railroad track in the country was sixty-five miles. I think you are mistaken in this respect, as the Nickel Plate can boast of eighty-six miles of straight track between the New Haven gravel pit and Arcadia, O."

The moulders of the Bass foundry and machine works have a sick and disabled benefit association which is a splendid organization for men engaged in their employ. It was organized in February, 1884, and now has on its rolls many of the employes of the works. The constitution and by-laws are similar to other organizations of its kind, but it has no outside expenses whatever. When a member is sick or disabled each of the other members pay to him the sum of twenty-five cents each for every week of his disability, and, with the present membership of the club, this amounts to a weekly payment of $8 or $10. In case of death the payment is $2 for each member, which is given to the wife of the deceased. The club is one of the cheapest of its kind and has paid out $1,000 in the way of benefits since its organization. The deceased Bass moulder, Henry Clay, was a member of this association.

THURSDAY, FEB. 9, 1888.

THE Pennsylvania strikers can never advance their cause in public favor by riotous methods.

ON the recommendation of Senator Payne, B. F. Wade, of Toledo, will be appointed United States marshal for the northern district of Ohio.

BRUNO SCHMITZ, the architect of the Indiana Soldiers' monument, has sailed from Germany and will arrive at Indianapolis about the 18th or 19th of the month.

GOVERNOR GRAY can add fresh laurels to his fame by suppressing the White Cap outrages in the southern part of the state. They injure the good name of Indiana.

EX-LT.-GOV. WILL CUMBACK, of this state, was at Washington last week, attending a reunion of the members of congress who in 1856 voted for Nathaniel P. Banks, of Massachusetts, for speaker of the house of representatives.

MR. ROSWELL P. FLOWER has written a Chicago friend to the effect that Governor Hill is in the presidential race and will dispute the New York delegation with President Cleveland. Mr. Hill will regret the attempt when he encounters the popular cyclone.

JUSTICE HARLAN will give Messrs. Coy and Bernhamer an opportunity to review the partisan and dangerous rulings of Judge Woods. It is not so much the conviction of the alleged tally sheet forgers, we deprecate, but the despisable manner in which it was accomplished under the guise of justice. There ought to be some show of fairness even in political trials.

THE report of the state board of health for the year commends the northern prison and state insane hospital as models of cleanliness and sanitary condition, but condemns in severe language the sewerage system of Michigan City and the southern prison. In the latter the board was unable to find a sanitary modern appliance. The condition of twenty-seven jails and seventeen county poor houses are also denounced as bad in every respect. The general health of all live stock is remarkably good, and school houses generally are reported to be in satisfactory condition and gradually growing more so.

THOUGH the appearance of artificial precious stones is now so exactly imitative of the genuine article as to render the judgment even of an expert frequently at fault, it is claimed that the test of hardness is still infallible. Thus the beautiful French paste, from which such attractive imitation diamonds are made, is a kind of glass, with a mixture of oxide of lead—the more of the latter the brighter the stone, but also the softer, and this latter is the serious defect. But by careful selection of the ingredients, and skill and manipulation, the luster, color, fire, and water of the choicest stones are, to the eyes of the ordinary purchaser, fully reproduced; there are a few delicacies of color that can not be perfectly given, depending as they do on some undiscoverable peculiarities of molecular arrangement, and not on chemical composition—these, however, not being apparent to the uninitiated. M. Sidot, however, a well-known French chemist, is reported to have nearly reproduced the peculiarities in question—including the dichroism of the sapphire—by means of a composition, of which the base is phosphate of lime; and other chemists have produced rubies and sapphires having the same composition as the genuine stones, and almost as hard.

THE twin cities of the Northwest, St. Paul and Minneapolis, understand each other, and never in the history of cities, ancient or modern, has rivalry been conducted, as in these great metropolises, upon the mutual benefit plan. If St. Paul claims 250,000 population, Minneapolis at least goes 10,000 better. This does not intimidate St. Paul. At the earliest opportunity she revises her figures and claims 300,000. If St. Paul boasts of climbing the beautiful hills which environ her, and which afford the citizen and tourist views of almost unparalleled beauty, Minneapolis comes to the front and tells how she is spreading out over all the adjacent country. If St. Paul boasts of being the Capital City, Minneapolis points to her mills and puts in a claim for being the Flour City of the world. And thus it goes on from year to year, and what is peculiar about the business is that when strangers visit these cities, what appeared in print as the creations of overwrought fancy, is found to be solid facts. The Munchausen statements are never more than six months ahead of the facts.

HIS Imperial Majesty Alexander III., Czar of all the Russias, recently presented the Czarina with a birthday present in the shape of a jeweled necklace. The gems used are all large emeralds, perfectly matched as to color and size. The matching of the stones alone occupied a period of three years. The imperial jewel is said to be highly prized by Alexander's consort.

A ROMANTIC wedding took place at Knoxville, Tenn., recently. Several young people were calling on Miss Annie Oates, a popular society belle, and was teasing her about a rumor that she was to be married. She told them that it was true and they could see for themselves in a few minutes. While they were talking W. H. Hague, a dry-goods salesman, drove up in a carriage with a minister, and in less than five minutes they were married. Members of her own family were as much surprised as any one.

AN event occurred in San Quintin, Lower California, recently, which was made an occasion of great importance. A baby was born. It was the first baby born in the new settlement. The residents assembled in mass meeting, and the result of their deliberations was a set of resolutions to the effect that the child should be called Quintin Beanghardt and that the local land company should bestow upon it any lot in the town that its parents should select. It was also decided to further encourage increasing the population by awarding two lots for twins and a whole block for triplets.

THE same precautions against fire are taken in Moscow and St. Petersburg to-day that were in use a century ago. Scores of fire-towers are everywhere seen. They run up about seventy-five to one hundred feet, are built like a light-house, with winding stairway, and have a platform all around at the top, where the watchman patrols day and night. If a fire is discovered a signal is given and the fire department turns out. It was only recently that St. Petersburg, the capital, with hundreds of millions of government property, secured a steam fire-engine, and that is a poor, old fashioned affair. The hand-engine does service there yet, and in most other cities of the empire.

"WE greatly dislike to find fault with any of the customs of our beautiful little city," says a Dakota editor, "but we must nevertheless insist that the people keep their swine out from under the office of this paper. While engaged at our desk writing our leader on 'The Stability of Our Territorial Institutions,' for our paper this week, one of Senator McBride's razor-backed hogs humped up its spine and began scratching its back on the beams under the floor, jarring the building and making it necessary for us to stop our work on the editorial, crawl under our office, and welt the critter along the side with a column rule. This interrupted our train of thought, and the editorial is not what we could wish."

A CHINESE missionary says he thinks that it will be many years before railroads can be built in China, because of the superstition of the people. China, he says, is one vast graveyard. On every side there are to be found the mounds of those who have died. The Chinese will not allow these mounds to be disturbed under any circumstances. Their superstition forbids the removal of a body or the interference with the grave of any person once buried with the proper ceremonies. Twice a year they visit the graves of their ancestors, in the spring with offerings of the first fruits of the season, and in the fall they repair to the graves and burn incense. If a railroad should attempt to enter the country some of these mounds would have to be removed or else the rails would have to wind in and out among them.

The blood is the source of health. Keep it pure by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is peculiar in its curative power.

The Only Perfect Remedy
For habitual constipation, dyspepsia, and kindred ills, is the famous California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. It strengthens as well as cleanses the system, it is easily taken, and perfectly harmless. Large bottles for sale by Thieme & Gross.

COMMODORE FOOTE.

The Celebrated Fort Wayne Lilliputian Writes From Mexico to The Sentinel.

CHIHUHUA, OLD MEXICO, Feb. 1, 1888.

EDITOR DAILY SENTINEL:

If "writing for the papers" was my forte I would like to jot down a brief history of my wanderings and the strange sights I have seen since leaving Fort Wayne, some three months ago. But, being one of the uninitiated in the "art preservative of arts," I am afraid of "putting my feet in it" should I attempt to do so. I cannot, however, resist the temptation to "write up" a few of my impressions of this curious old country, even at the risk of having my efforts find a burial in the waste basket. El Paso, Texas, a thriving city of perhaps 10,000 inhabitants, situated in the extreme southwestern part of the state, is the great iron gateway between the two republics, through which passes a vast amount of traffic. The Rio Grande river at this point forms the boundary line, as one may say, between the nineteenth and sixteenth centuries; between progress and mere brute existence. A bridge spans the river here, and passing over it, you find yourself on Mexican soil and in the old city of Paso del Norte. Here, to unaccustomed eyes, many strange sights present themselves. Houses, fences, everything, is made of adobe (adobe is made from the dirt mixed with water). The winding, narrow streets are filled with Greasers, burro's dogs and other genus homo, all standing idle, or moving at a snail-like pace, with no apparent object or ambition. Continuing through the tortuous streets your attention is attracted by a quaint old structure of more pretentious size than any in its neighborhood. It is the church of My Lady Grondelupe, and is said to be over 250 years old, and is the mecca to which the devote Catholic population wends its way daily.

The Mexican Central railroad has its northern terminus here. The road was built by American money and is operated by Americans. The road compares favorable with the roads in "God's country" and is very well patronized. Its southern terminus, I believe, is the City of Mexico. Embarking on one of its trains at Paso del Norte, after a ride of 220 miles, we arrived at Chihuhua, the capital city of the state of that name. The city has a population of perhaps 40,000, and is built on a level plateau that extends to a considerable distance on all sides, while its name reaches far beyond the scope of vision. Here we see Mexican life in all the fullness of its glory. The lower classes are about as low as it is possible for them to get, and are little better than slaves. The streets are full of mendicants, who single out the foreigner as their especial prey. They inform you on every corner that Americans are good givers and are almost always rewarded with a "cinquor" for this little piece of flattery. The higher classes are noted for their genial politeness, high breeding and the cunning ability they possess in cheating. Here, as at Paso del Norte, everything is made of adobe; the Mexican sun furnishes the fuel for burning brick, and after watching the process of making these adobe brick, the task allotted the children of Israel, to make brick without straw, don't seem to have been such a hard task after all. The little burro is made the beast of burden here, and it is simply wonderful the amount in weight they will carry. Here we see a groupe of a dozen or more loaded with hay, and still another loaded with country produce, all moving along the streets picking up whatever they can masticate, seemingly as unconcerned as if they were in a rich pasture instead of laboring under a 100 pound weight. I know that some of our Indiana dairymen would "smile a smole" could they see the Mexican milk peddler and his outfit. Here, as in almost everything else, the burro does the work; two old Egyptian jugs are fitted into baskets, and thrown over the back of the burro, something after the fashion of the ante-Bellum saddle bags, and into these jugs the milk is put and carried. Another strange sight is to see wooden-wheeled carts and oxen yoked by the horns, exactly as they did six thousands years ago. In fact everything moves slowly here, and it makes the average Yankee nervous to attempt to do any business with a native. The only good thing I find in this country is the climate, which is all that could be wished for. I am now writing by an open window in the shade, while the air is as balmy as a June day in Indiana. Strawberries and other garden "truck" is in the market; so, you see, while you of the frigid north are going around with blue noses, I am enjoying the genial warmth of summer.

The Chihuhua cathedral, said to be over 200 years old, is a grand old building. There are eight small bells and one large bell hanging in the high tower. The large bell has a portion broken out—done by a cannon ball during the Maximillian war. The prisons are horrible. The hotels are none of the best. The flooring is brick and many rooms have no windows—only iron bars in the doors, (a la prison style.) I went to see a Mexican bull fight here. There were over 5,000 spectators. I think it most brutal the way they torture the beasts. I will close this hastily written letter, only remarking that business with our party has been good this season.

Yours respectfully,
CHARLES W. NESTEL,
Known as "Commodore Foote."

THE English system of naval punishments is to be revised, and minor offenses, instead of being treated to the cat and sweat box, will now be punished by fines and stoppage of leave.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.
Jan. 19-eodawly.

Why You Feel

So weak and exhausted is because your blood is impure. As well expect the sanitary condition of a city to be perfect with defiled water and defective sewerage, as to expect such a complicated piece of mechanism as the human frame to be in good order with impure blood circulating even to its minutest veins. Do you know that every drop of your two or three gallons of blood passes through the heart and lungs in about two and a half minutes, and that, on its way, it makes bone and muscle, brain and nerve, and all other solids and fluids of the body? The blood is the great nourisher, or, as the Bible terms it,

"The Life of the Body."

Is it any wonder, then, that if the blood be not pure and perfect in its constituents, you suffer so many indescribable symptoms?

Ayer's Sarsaparilla stands "head and shoulders" above every other Alterative and Blood Medicine. As proof, read these reliable testimonies:

G. C. Brock, of Lowell, Mass., says: "For the past 25 years I have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In my opinion, the best remedial agencies for the cure of all the diseases arising from impurities of the blood are contained in this medicine."

Eugene I. Hill, M. D., 361 Sixth Ave., New York, says: "As a blood-purifier and general builder-up of the system, I have never found anything to equal Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It gives perfect satisfaction."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla proves equally efficacious in all forms of Scrofula, Boils, Carbuncles, Eczema, Humors, Lumbago, Catarrh, &c.; and is, therefore, the very best

Spring and Family Medicine

in use. "It beats all," says Mr. Cutler, of Cutler Brothers & Co., Boston, "how

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

does sell." Prepared by

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

SKIN SCALP BLOOD.

Having been a sufferer for two years and half from a disease caused by a bruise on the leg, and having been cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other methods and remedies failed, I deem it my duty to recommend them. I visited Hot Springs to no avail, and tried several doctors without success, and at last our principal druggist, Mr. John F. Finley, (to whom I shall ever feel grateful), spoke to me about Cuticura, and I consented to give them a trial with the result that I am perfectly cured. There is now no sore about me. I think I can show the largest surface where my sufferings spread from of any one in the State. The Cuticura Remedies are the best blood and skin cures manufactured. I refer to druggist John F. Finley and Dr. D. C. Montgomery, both of this place, and to Dr. Smith, of Lake Lee, Miss.

ALEXANDER BEAUS, Greenville, Miss.

Mr. Beach used the Cuticura Remedies, at our request, with results as above stated.

SAVED MY MOTHER'S LIFE.

Ever since I can remember, my mother has suffered from a milk leg. Nothing would do her any good. She had the best medical talent, but they all did her no good. She suffered with her leg for thirty years and never knew a well day. She would have to sit up her first night, holding up her leg and moaning. She had no peace. She used all the best know remedies in the country without effect. I asked her to try your Cuticura Remedies. Got her a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, and she took it, and has taken in all about six or seven bottles and now she is a well woman today. Her leg is entirely healed, and her health was never better. She can go out every day, something she has not done in ten years, so you see I cannot help stating to you about your wonderful Cuticura Remedies. You have saved my mother's life. I cannot find words to express my gratitude. I have advised your Cuticura Remedies far and near.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar the symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh is a vain but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing deadened, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and sacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvelous curative power of Sanford's Radical Cure manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and one improved inhaler, price $1.

WEAK, UNDEVELOPED PARTS of the body enlarged and strengthened by special treatment from ERIE MED. CO., Buffalo, N.Y.

A Boon

To mankind, said a member of the State Medical Society of Ga., at one of its meetings, "and the prescription ought to be given to the medical fraternity for the benefit of the Profession, for no such combination exists in the Pharmacopea as that of Simmons Liver Regulator." The late THOS. H. POWERS, of Philadelphia, America's greatest chemist, asserted "it was like the discovery of Dover, in his celebrated Dover's Powder, it could not be improved and it was wonderfully strange that the combination had never been made in an officinal form."

L. M. HUTTON, M. D., Washington, Ark., says: "No other remedy within my knowledge can fill its place. I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action and at the same time add (instead of weakening) the digestive powers."

Symptoms such as bitter or bad taste in the mouth; pain in the back, often mistaken for Rheumatism; sour stomach; loss of appetite; bowels alternately costive and lax; headache; loss of memory, with a painful sensation of having failed to do something which ought to have been done; debility; low spirits; a thick yellow appearance of the skin and eyes; a dry cough often mistaken for Consumption, indicate Liver disease, and if not regulated in time great suffering, wretchedness and death will often ensue.

Price $1. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by J. H. ZEILIN & Co., Philadelphia, Pa

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescribably miserable, both physically and mentally; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "gone-ness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flushes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Diseases, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

CURES ALL HUMORS,

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-Joint Disease, "White Swellings," Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large Treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a Treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength and bodily health will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "CONSUMPTION CURE," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

Sold by Druggists, at $1.00, or Six Bottles for $5.00.

THE STOREKEEPER'S TERROR.

Playing the Game of Shop Borrowing. Revenges of the Saleswomen.

The cheeky woman now in mind is self possessed, smiling and well dressed. She is the terror of storekeepers. Recently a specimen of this class had a piece of fine needlework that her own sewing machine could not do. She knew of one in the market that could, and so she went to the office, talked prices and quality, asked permission to try it on the spot, took a roll from her shopping bag, stitched an hour till the job was done, expressed entire satisfaction with the machine and price, gave her name, street and number, with an order for one of the best, and went her way. The agent never saw her again, and found no machine was wanted at the street and number designated. She would be horrified at the hint of shoplifting. Her little game is different. It is shop borrowing. This same woman was invited to an out of town reception. She wanted a more elegant outside garment than her own for the occasion, and she got it. Going to one of the largest establishments, she tried on and tried on wraps, trying at the same time the patience of the saleswoman, as she always came back to one, the most elegant of the lot, and seemed just on the point of choosing it. Finally she begged permission to take it home to show her husband, feeling certain he would approve. The garment was sent home, was worn at the reception, and returned with a polite note and regrets that it was not found satisfactory.

But the saleswomen get their little revenges. They remember faces and bestow their own titles. "Here comes a tough," goes down the line of clerks when one of this class appears, no matter how richly she is dressed. "I'm ready for you" is in the eye of the saleswoman she pauses before. It is a counter of ribbon sashes, glowing like a rainbow in soft colors. The "tough" looks at a score of them; the green one ought to be blue, the pink heliotrope, and so on, and finally she declares they are cheap things. "You know I never buy cheap goods." The girl apologizes, runs her hand under the pile, draws out several of the same quality and price, names a figure double that, however, and the customer buys three!

"It is my business to sell goods," she explains to a friend. "I have to adapt myself to my customer. The other day a tough was looking at plush at $1.50. She wanted something better after she had worried the life out of me. I took from the shelves a piece of the same quality, said she could have that for $2.50, and she bought a quantity of it perfectly satisfied. Half the time the tough doesn't know what she wants or how much. Think of the mother of a family asking me how much she wants for a girl of 5! It is my business to sell goods, so I name a good pattern. When she comes back for two yards more to make a dress of it for herself, and scolds me for selling her too much, I don't care; my business is to sell goods."

"Do you keep the extra money?"

"Never! Everything goes to the cashier, who makes the change. Sometimes we get some of it back in 'spiff' money. That is the per cent. we have for selling old goods. But when a lady throws a pair of slippers almost in my face and says, 'Do you think I've got such big feet as that?' I get a little pay for my pains by sending up seventy-five cents more than the pair she buys are worth. I don't want her money."—New York Sun.

The Grand Duke's Marriage.

The czar, in the midst of his other troubles, has just had to decide a delicate family matter. Duke Nicholas, his cousin, and one of his aides de camp, has fallen in love with a middle aged widow. That would not have been anything very unusual for a Russian grand duke to do, but Nicholas went further. He actually insisted on marrying the lady. There was a great to do in the imperial family. Nicholas remained obdurate, and finally appealed to the czar, and induced him as the head of the family to give his consent to the match. It need scarcely be said that the marriage will be a morganatic one. The imperial bridegroom is 31 years of age and the bride is 40.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Sweet Confession.

"Dear, dear George," whispered a girl, resting her young head trustfully on the manly bosom of the handsome youth who had just asked her to be his bride. "I am so glad, darling, that you do love me. I —I—I—will it be immodest for me to say it so soon, George? but I hoped you loved me long ago, and I have tried to read the truth in your dear eyes and face, and I thought I did read it there sometimes, and then again I would fear it was all—all—forgive me, my love, for my injustice and blindness—I feared it was all—guff!"—Detroit Free Press.

He Understood the Business.

First Beggar—Why didn't you tackle that lady? She might have given you something.

Second Beggar—I let her go because I understand my business better than you do. I never ask a woman for anything when she is alone; but when two women are together you can get money from both, because each one is afraid the other will think her stingy if she refuses. This profession has to be studied, just like any other, if you expect to make it a success. —Texas Siftings.

Bernhardt's Superstitions.

When Richepin's "Macbeth" was brought out some time ago at the Porte St. Martin, in Paris, the "divine Sarah" had a notion that the playing or singing of the witches' music would certainly entail misfortune upon her, consequently some other composition had to take its place. She also displays, it is said, a positive horror of anything of saffron tint. —New York Sun.

The City of Mexico's Rings.

Nearly $350,000 has been spent in the city of Mexico in fitting up the six rings in which bull fights are held. Of these the most elaborate is the Colon ring, on which $100,000 was expended. The Paseo and S. Rafael, which cost $108,000, have already earned the amount invested.—New York Evening World.

Hunger the Best Sauce.

Woman (who has given some mince pie to tramp)—You seem to be hungry.

Tramp—That goes without saying, which is a bit of badly Anglicized French, ma'am, meaning, in our more vigorous English, "you can bet your sweet life I am," or I wouldn't be able to get away with much of this pie.—New York Sun.

Hostility to Religious Liberty.

The Massachusetts Republicans are assuming an attitude of hostility to religious liberty. They want to prove to the world that there is no Jeffersonian Democracy about them.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Trans-Caspian Railroad.

The United States did some great railroad building last year, but the czar, too, is a handy railroad builder when it becomes a case of national policy. The trans-Caspian road is being pushed with vigor. In Bokhara a few years ago it didn't pay to be a white man. Today 7,000 men are grading this great road, which crosses the Oxus on a bridge three miles long, one of the largest of its kind in the world. In the spring the line between the western world and Samarcand, the capital of that ancient prince of butchers, Tamerlane, will be ready for business.—Inter Ocean.

An Actor's Eccentricity.

Many stories of Richard Mansfield's eccentricities have been circulated, but two of the best still remain to be told. The actor has such a strong antipathy to the creaking of shoes that he cautions the stage hands to wear rubber gear while they are working. While he was in St. Louis recently one of the carpenters happened to sneeze, whereupon the irate Mansfield ordered him never to sneeze upon the stage again, but to run out into the alley when he felt the sensation coming on him.—Chicago Herald.

Use of Green Paper.

Several of the French railroad companies and other public bodies have resolved to have their printing done on green instead of white paper. The reason for the change is that they believe the combination of white paper with black characters endangers the eyesight of their work people. Black on green has always been recognized as a good combination, and many railroad tickets are so printed. —Frank Leslie's.

Gold Mines in Wales.

It is announced that gold has been found in Wales, "on Guynfnydd farm, near Iransfynidd, between the beautiful waterfalls of Pistyllу Cain and Rhaiadr Mawddach."—New York Sun.

No other medicine is so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, for the cure of coughs, colds, and all derangements of the respiratory organs. It relieves the asthmatic and consumptive, even in advanced stages of the disease.

Praise Your Wife.

Praise your wife, man; for pity's sake give her a little encouragement; it won't hurt her. She doesn't expect it; it will make her eyes open wider than they have for the last ten years; but it will do her good for all that, and you, too. There are many women to-day thirsting for a word of praise and encouragement. You know that if the floor is clean, labor has been performed to make it so. You know that if you can take from your drawer a clean shirt whenever you want it, somebody's fingers have toiled. Why don't you come out with it hearty, "Why, how pleasant you make things look, wife," or "I am obliged to you for taking so much pains." If you gave a hundred and sixtieth part of the compliments you almost choked them with before they were married; if you would stop the badinage of whom you are going to have when number one is dead (such things wives may laugh at, but they sink deep sometimes), fewer women would seek for other sources of happiness.—Columbus Telegram.

Constipation Has Many Victims, and the endeavor to find relief with the cathartic, the injection, the aperient and laxative are distressing. These are resorted to time and again, until the sufferer is almost in despair, as he gains only a brief respite.

By taking Simmons Liver Regulator, the bowels will be gently moved as naturally as if no medicine had been taken. Regularity in taking the medicine will soon effect a permanent relief.

CANINE VILLAINS.

The "Bunjara," a dog from twenty-four to twenty-eight inches in height at the shoulders, is beyond description the most ferocious of all the breeds of dogs that I have ever known. He is, like his master, a born villain. No coaxing or blandishments avail with him; he will tear and rend his best friend and will devour his "sisters, his cousins or his aunts" with impunity. I say like his master, as the only persons who own "Bunjaras" are the criminal tribes, and principally the "Bunjara" tribe. Now, the "Bunjara" people, by their caste, are born rogues and vagabonds, and the more evil they can do, the more wrongs they can commit, the softer their bed and the more pleasurable their life in Valhalla when they die, which many say they seldom do—naturally. The "Bunjara" dog is like this, only more so. He is a cunning fox, an insatiable hater, a consummate villain, yet he has some good points. He can and will hold out to the last gasp; he never tires, and to one and only one does he ever give his allegiance, and to him he sticks. Of women he is a despiser, regarding them as his master does—only as a "means to an end." In color he is dark-brown or gray, shading to black; his coat is close like a mastiff's, but tufted on the elbows and hocks, and feathered down inside of fore legs; his tail is carried low, except when excited, and has a good deal of brush, especially at tip; his ears are flat to the head and only slightly raised on occasion. He his used exclusively for hunting and only by natives—never by Europeans.

Syrup of Figs.

Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal., is Nature's own true laxative. This pleasant California liquid fruit remedy may be had of Theime and Gross, druggists, large bottles at fifty cents or one dollar. It is the most pleasant, prompt, and effective remedy known to cleanse the system; to set off the Liver, Kidneys, and bowels gently yet thoroughly; to dispel Headaches, Colds and Fevers; to cure Constipation, Indigestion, and kindred ills.

He Was Like the Moon.

A plain spoken country preacher in Texas was called upon to make a few remarks at the grave of a man who was somewhat unpopular, and who during his life was much addicted to drink. The preacher fulfilled his task in the following words:

"With what shall I compare the deceased remains? Shall I compare him to the sun? No never. The sun blinds people with its brilliancy. The deceased never blinded anybody with his brilliancy. Shall I compare him with the stars. No, not with the stars that can only be seen at night. Our late friend could be seen both day and night, at the saloons. I think, on the whole, we had better compare him with the moon. The moon gets full every once in a while, and so did the deceased. I've heard that the moon borrows its light and so did the remains, for he smoked a great deal and was always letting his cigar go out. Peace to his ashes.—Texas Siftings.

Rheumatism

Is undoubtedly caused by lactid acid in the blood. This acid attacks the fibrous tissues, and causes the pains and aches in the back, shoulders, knees, ankles, hips, and wrists. Thousands of people have found in Hood's Sarsaparilla a positive cure for rheumatism. This medicine, by its purifying action, neutralizes the acidity of the blood, and also builds up and strengthens the whole body.

Ben Butler and the Apple.

An old-timer who was in the mob said: "I was quite a shaver at the time Gen. Butler made his famous speech in this city. It was not made in Union Square, but in the city hall park opposite the city hall, alongside the old, hideous statue of Washington, which stood a few feet from where the present park fountain stands. Butler did not take an apple out of his pocket. The fact is the mob had been throwing all sorts of things at the General, none of which hit him, but some fellow in the crowd, with a more accurate aim than that of the others, threw an apple which hit him plump in the stomach. As the apple struck him he instinctively slapped his hand over his stomach, and in doing so caught the apple against his vest. It was then that he deliberately took out his penknife, coolly proceeded to peel it, and then began eating it. The mob, which had up to this time been savage in its attacks, broke out in roars of laughter, and Butler won the day. The speech he delivered was a 'corker.' One of the mildest things that he told his listeners was that when he was in New Orleans he had hanged better men than they were.—New York Telegram.

"My little son, three years of age, was terribly afflicted with scrofula. His head was entirely covered with scrofulous sores, and his body showed many marks of the disease. A few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured him."—W. J. Beckett, Hymera, Ind.

THE New York City elevated and surface railroads carried last year 358,538,198 passengers, for which they received in 5-cent fares upward of $17,000,000. The profits, after paying all expenses, were about $8,000,000.

HE, whose only claim to the title "gentleman" is in his clothes, must necessarily be careful as to what he wears.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

LOCAL NEWS.

Harry Downey, of Richmond, Ind., is visiting friends in the city.

Drs. Dills, Sweringen and Dinnen examined pensioners yesterday.

Israel Luther, of New Haven, was yesterday granted a pension.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Olds left last night for Florida to spend the winter.

Mr. J. H. Wilder, the secretary of N. G. Olds & Sons, went south this morning.

The sale of seats for the funniest comedy ever written, "Natural Gas," opened this morning.

Miss Bertha Harrison, of Charles street, who has been quite ill for several days, is now improving.

Mr. Tom A. Dean, manager of the cigar department of A. Kieler & Co., of Indianapolis, is in the city.

Mrs. Henry Nix, of No. 531 East Wayne street, is suffering with a very painful cancer on her finger.

Frank Wise has been promoted to succeed Fred Thieme as assistant ticket agent at the Nickel Plate office.

The earnings for the Wabash for the fourth week of January were $146,776, an increase of $4,739 over the same period of last year.

To-morrow is pay day at the Bass works, the Kerr Murray foundry, the Horton Manufacturing company and the Pennington works.

Frank Thumm and Carrie Stahl, Deidrich F. W. Nahrwald and Augusta Meyer, George J. Welker and Lillie Freitag, have been licensed to wed.

In "Natural Gas," Manager Simonson promises the funniest show of the season and as he generally sticks to his word, the play will be a splendid one.

George L. Potter has sold to R. M. French and Maria French, lot 87, Hanna's addition, for $5,000; Henry M. Williams to William Heine lot 68, South Calhoun street, for $225.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Roberts, of New York City, are guests of the Aveline house. Mr. Roberts is manager of the Jennie Yeamen's company and Mrs. Roberts is pleasantly remembered in Fort Wayne society as Miss Fannie Dillon.

The company presenting "Natural Gas" is without an exception the strongest comedy company traveling. Among the principal actors we notice Amy Ames, Rachel Booth, May Yohe, Gus Henessy, Frank Cushman and Messrs. Gilbert, Donnelly and Girard. Every member is a star.

The large boiler formerly used in the Pittsburg car shops, is being placed in the blacksmith department to-day for the purpose of running the machinery of the blacksmith, boiler and copper shops and the electric light. It will also heat the copper and boiler departments and the round house. The boiler is a large one and the stack is seventy feet high.

Every year, Pastor Northrop has one or more men's mass meetings. They have become so popular and beneficial, that he has planned such a service next Lord's day, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Baptist church. To see 600 men in a body worshiping God is an imposing sight. Men from shop, store and office should not fail to attend this meeting. Twenty-five young men of the congregation will lead the song service. Do not forget the hour.

The Columbia City Post has this pleasant personal mention: "Will O'Rourke, a young attorney of Fort Wayne, was in town on Saturday and gave the Post a pleasant call.—Harry Hanna, of Fort Wayne, was in the city on Monday. Mr. Hanna is prominently mentioned as a candidate for congress on the republican ticket.—Mr. S. B. Bond, president of the old National bank at Fort Wayne, was in the city several days last week. He is one of the owners of the extensive sand stone quarries at Stony Point, Mich."

At a meeting of the Columbia City council last Saturday evening, a contract was closed with the Ruch Brothers for lighting the streets of that city with the Jenney arc lights. There will be twenty-six lights in number and each light will be of two thousand candle power. The contract is for a term of five years, the plant to be in full operation within three months. The firm will also furnish incandescent lights for individual use, and for this purpose is given the exclusive right to erect poles and spring wires in the streets and alleys for five years. For each street light the city agrees to pay $75 per year, the lights only to be kept burning until midnight.

The Indianapolis Journal prints the congratulatory telegrams sent to Capt. J. B. White at Washington. They are from Wm. Bunyan, Kendallville; O. L. Bollou, Lagrange; J. W. Baker, Columbia City; Hugh Stewart, Monroeville; A. A. Purman, M. Frank, S. Greensfelder, George Reiter, A. A. Chapin, W. G. Colerick, A. H. Dougall, A. E Reinhardt and J. McLeitche. Judge Colerick said: "Congratulations! Justice has prevailed. All honor to the noble democrats who respected the will of the people." Mr. Ballou said: "A thousand democrats in Lagrange county send you greetings." George Reiter said: "I congratulate you on being sustained by the house as a citizen of the United States. We will all feel gay when Bobby comes marching home."

Dry sermons are bad enough, but for the minister to preach them through his nose is inexcusable. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will save both minister and sermon if taken in time.

Let everybody prepare to have a good night's enjoyment at the Temple, Saturday next, when "Natural Gas" will be first lighted in the city of Fort Wayne.

Mentone, a flourishing village west of here, on the Nickel Plate road, is greatly afflicted with the measles. Out of a population of 1,000 about 150 have had the disease.

Freeman King died yesterday morning at his late residence, in Pleasant township, by reason of injuries caused by a fall, which occurred on the 4th instant. The funeral will take place to-morrow.

The Trade and Labor council, at its meeting Tuesday night, decided to attend the meeting, at the circuit court room, Saturday night, in a body. The meeting will be in the interest of the Reading railway strikers.

Little Rilla Bowersock, of Lafayette township, has gone to school for six years, and during that time has never missed a day or been tardy a minute. How many of the boys and girls in the country schools can say as much?

Mr. C. M. Crawford, the pleasant postmaster of Pierceton, Ind., was in the city last evening, the guest of Postmaster Keough. In company with a lady of the west end, Postmaster Crawford was at the Temple to see Joe Murphy.

Clerk Dan Sonder, of the Superior court, was sick yesterday and Harry Metzger officiated in the injunction tribunal. He tells us that: "In the water works trustees' injunction case, the restraining order was modified so as to expire February 11, 1888, at 10 o'clock, when the motion for injunction will be heard."

You are invited to the weekly prayer meeting, at the residence of J. W. Minnich, 78 West Fourth street, Bloomingdale, on Friday evening, Feb. 10. These meetings were organized under the auspices of the R. K. Y. M. C. A., and have become so popular and interesting that the houses will hardly hold the people that attend, but there is always room for one more. Come and bring a friend.

More than $10,000,000 worth of oysters were shipped from Maryland to all parts of the world this season. Over 50,000 persons are employed in the industry in the state and it supports besides 1,500 schooners and sloops. To enforce the law for the regulation of these vessels the state maintains an "oyster navy," consisting of five steamers, six schooners and eight sloops.

The South Bend Times cautions farmers not to buy foreign potatoes for seeding purposes. From October 1 to January 15 over 370,000 barrels of foreign potatoes were imported and readily sold. Those potatoes are excellent for eating purposes, but experience has proven that they will not bear if planted in this country. This statement is made upon trustworthy authority. Our farmers who tried it six years ago have probably not forgotten their experience.

"For I am declined into the vale of years," she said a little sadly, "but indeed I don't much mind it since I can get Salvation Oil for 25 cents."

Don't fail to attend the Saengerbund masquerade ball at the Princess rink, Tuesday, Feb. 14. 9-3t

Mr. Shaw Stevens, of Peru, is in the city.

The chicken show is well patronized. It will close Saturday night.

The Scottish rite Masons of the valley of Fort Wayne will hold an important conclave at the Masonic Temple parlors to-night. Prominent Masons from all parts of the state will be present.

Col. C. A. Zollinger, the state pension agent, is in the city. The colonel has a host of friends in Fort Wayne and it will please them to know that he is mentioned as a splendid candidate for governor.

A very interesting meeting was held at the St. Paul M. E. church last night. The attendance was very large and there were seven accessions to the church. A communion service of unusual interest will be held this evening at 7:30. Rev. C. W. Lynch and Rev. F. G. Wynne will be present and administer the sacrament.

Daniel Lewis, an engineer on the Grand Rapids road, who was taken suddenly sick in this city a few days ago, died last night at 11 o'clock of uremic poisoning. The deceased was thirty-five years old and has a large circle of friends in this city who will mourn his sad and early death. His home was at Kalamazoo, Mich., where he has a wife and one child. His remains were shipped to that place this morning. Mr. Lewis was one of the best trainmen on the road and had recently received a promotion to the engineership of a passenger locomotive.

POLICE COURT.

Quite a Chapter Added to the Criminal Record—A Sneak Thief Caught.

Esquire Daniel Ryan presided at police court this morning with customary dignity.

His first business was to sentence six vagrants to jail.

Two drunks, Frank Smith and Charles Stoahoff, said guilty and waltzed over the Nickel Plate singing, "We're the plumbers of the town."

Frank Meeks, the young man charged with disturbing a prayer meeting at the United Brethren church, asked for a continuance and will have a hearing to-morrow.

Albert Stenner, a wayward youth, was up on a charge of larceny. He stole a Pullman car lantern some time ago, but escaped prosecution. His father gave him $16 to go to Grand Rapids, but instead the lad went on a drunk and held forth at a queer house on Lafayette street. Justice Ryan gave him a fifteen day jail sentence.

The next gentleman to look up into his honor's face was Charles Johnson, of Detroit. About 6 o'clock last evening he dropped into Horace Mariotte's second hand store and asked what they would give for a seal skin cloak. Mr. Marriotte said he would not name a price until he saw the goods. The stranger promised to return in an hour and did so, but Mr. Mariotte, suspecting it was the cloak stolen from Mr. Frieburger Saturday last, notified the police. When Mr. Johnson returned with his plunder Officer Humbrecht put iron bracelets on him and locked him up. He had in his possession the seal skin cloak, the seal mits, the shawl and silk umbrella stolen from Mr. Frieburger's home and they will be restored to their owner.

This morning the prisoner gave his name as Charles Johnson. He pleaded not guilty and demanded time to employ an attorney. The case was therefore continued and his bail was fixed at $500.

JOHN M'CAIN.

He Was Robbed at Los Angeles and is Now a Total Wreck on the Pacific Coast.

Mr. C. B. Woodworth this morning received a letter from his father, Dr. B. S. Woodworth, who is now at Riverside, Cal. The doctor writes that at Colton, a station between Los Angeles and Riverside, he met John McCain, the former proprietor of the Home billiard hall, in this city.

McCain was under the influence of liquor at the time. His clothes were soiled and ragged, his personal appearance decidedly dilapidated and not a cent in his pocket. He explained to Dr. Woodworth that at Los Angeles he was waylaid and robbed of his gold watch and chain, together with his money. He exhibited an ugly scar on his forehead as proof of his story and then negotiated a cash loan from the doctor.

The man is a total wreck, but he says he wants to come home and stay.

FATALLY HURT.

William Walden, a Pittsburg Switchman, Pinched.

Early this morning William Walden, a switchman employed in the east Pittsburg and Fort Wayne railroad yards, attempted to make a coupling. He stood in front of a car holding a coupling pin, when another approaching car came up and wedged him between the dead wood. The irons caught him directly in the stomach and held him in their vice-like grasp for a minute or so.

He was bruised so badly that he had to be carried to the Sordelet boarding house near by. His injuries are internal and the physicians are afraid he cannot live.

He is twenty-eight years old and hails from West Penbrook, N. Y., where his mother lives.

A New Departure.

The state superintendent will this year send to the county superintendents of the state lists of questions for the examination of pupils in the advanced grade of the district schools. The questions will be furnished for the third Saturday of February, March and April. Mr. Felts will endeavor to have most of the examinations in this county on the third Saturday of March. The examinations will, in all probability, be held at the center schools of the various townships.

The largest stock of wines at the Ale House, for socials and meetings. Prices very low.

THE BIDDERS.

Figures on the New Columbia City Court House.

Yesterday THE SENTINEL noted the fact that Joseph S. Baker, of Warsaw, had been awarded the contract to erect the new stone court house, at Columbia City. The following proposals for the work will interest:

First came the bid of Christian Boseker, of Fort Wayne, whose bid was the following:

Stony Point, Mich.	$142,488
Bedford, Ind.	145,400

The bid of Joseph S. Baker, of Warsaw, was the following:

Stony Point, Mich.	$124,789
Berea, Ohio	122,000
Lesaville, Ohio	124,900
Bedford, Ind.	124,989
Ellettsville, Ind.	124,700
Steinsville, Ind.	124,700
Hoosier Stone Co., (Bedford)	124,700

The bid of McCormack & Redmond, of Columbus, Indiana, was the following:

Stony Point	$142,867
Berea	139,387
Bedford	144,367
Ellettsville	147,867

Mr. Boseker also bid $300 for the old court house, Mr. Baker, $100, and McCormack & Redmond, $400. Mr. Baker, being the lowest bidder, was awarded the contract to erect the new building for $124,700, using stone from the Hoosier stone quarry at Bedford.

Mr. Baker, the gentleman who was awarded the contract for the building, was auditor of Kosciusko county for two terms and is a cousin of the editor of the Columbia City Commercial. Before being elected auditor he was a commercial traveler for a Toledo house, and is known to be a hustler from away back.

The contract is quite a compliment to Mr. Brent Tolan, of Fort Wayne, the architect, who estimated the building at $125,000. Mr. Baker will begin operations as soon as the weather permits and will push it until the structure is completed.
